Chinese in Southwest Part of Nation Throw Back Japs

Chungking, May 28 (AP)—The bitterly contested city of Kinshwa in Chekiang province still is in Chinese hands after the failure of attacks by heavily reinforced Japanese columns, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

Both sides lost heavily in bitter fighting which raged throughout yesterday around the walls of Kinshwa, provincial capital and chief objective of the Japanese army's major sweep down the coastal area below Shanghai, said a communique.

The Japanese brought up 10,000 reinforcements, including artillery and cavalry as well as infantry, for the assaults, which came from several sides but all of which were repulsed.

The Japanese had claimed capture of the city this morning, but this was denied here.

Japanese headquarters asserted today that Japanese troops, climbing a 200-mile advance in 10 days, had captured China's 'Gold Flower' city of Kinshwa, capital of the eastern seaboard province of Chekiang, and thereby cut off one of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's vital supply routes.

Chekiang province is strategically important as a potential spring board for an allied offensive against Japan.

Chinese dispatches failed to confirm the Japanese claim. They asserted that Chinese defenses, firmly entrenched on the outskirts of Kinshwa were holding their ground at last reports, but admitted that the city was in grave danger.

A Chinese communique last night said a fierce battle was raging around the city after two days' assaults had been beaten off and more than 1,000 Japanese had been killed by land mines alone.

Japanese field headquarters said Japanese soldiers completed occupation of the capital at 7 a. m. today.

Kinhwa lies 200 airline miles southwest of Shanghai and 800 miles east of Chungking, China's wartime capital.

Lease-Lend Pacts Are Aimed At Winning War and Peace

More Than 20 Anti-Axis Nations Fall Into Category of Those Receiving Aid; Russia, China Get Proposals

By WADE WERNER

Washington, May 28 (AP)—A gigantic pooling of economic resources on a worldwide scale, first for the winning of the war and later for the winning of the peace, is indicated in lease-lend agreements consummated or in process of negotiation between the United States and more than a score of anti-Axis countries.

The broad principles of lease-lend assistance and cooperation in the achievement of victory and establishment of a healthy world economy after the war were laid down in the agreement signed last February by Great Britain and the United States.

Tuesday the draft proposal for a similar agreement with Soviet Russia was handed to Ambassador Maxim Litvinov by Secretary of State Hull, and yesterday the draft of a proposed lease-lend pact with China was transmitted to Chungking through Foreign Minister T. V. Soong, who is in Washington.

In discussing the proposals offered Russia and China, Secretary Hull told his press conference that the provisions generally were the same as those already entered into with Britain.

The agreement with Britain provides, among other things, that the precise and detailed terms of settlement of lease-lend accounts shall be deferred "until the extent of the defense aid is known", that full account shall be taken of all aid rendered to the United States, as well as aid rendered by the United States, and that the final terms and conditions of settlement shall be such as to promote world trade rather than hinder it.

Lease-lend aid in the form of ships, planes, tanks, guns and other materials already is flowing to Russia and China as well as to (Continued on Page 11)

Stimson Warns US Jap Air Attacks In West Will Come

Tells Questioner Even Raid on East Coast Is Not Inconceivable in Spite of Distance

Washington, May 28 (AP)—Secretary Stimson said today the war department considered a Japanese air raid on the United States to be inevitable as a return blow for Brigadier General James H. Doolittle's attack on Tokyo and other Japanese cities.

The secretary told his press conference the army was doing everything possible to meet the expected attack, which he indicated was anticipated on the west coast.

"Whatever happens, we shan't relax our most effective defense—our preparations for a major offensive," he said.

Stimson also told a questioner that despite the great distance the east coast lies from Japan, an attack on the national capital was "not inconceivable." He did not discuss the possibility of attacks by Japan's Axis partners.

"Loss of face" Japan suffered from the army air attack by General Doolittle made a vengeance blow inevitable, Stimson contended.

"The United States, through General Doolittle, inflicted a stinging, humiliating, surprise blow on the Japanese as evidenced by their boasting of Japan's invulnerability at the very time the bombers came over," the secretary said.

"To anyone who knows Oriental psychology, it is clear that attack has meant a most serious 'loss of face' which by Oriental psychology can only be wiped out by a return blow—a greater blow if possible."

"That situation is of paramount interest to us today—to set our house in order for what seems inevitable. We are fully alert to this almost inevitable sequence of the Tokyo raid and are doing everything we can to prepare for such a return blow."

Stimson noted that both he and General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, had warned that "with our extensive coast line there is no such thing as a perfect defense" against raids.

Louis B. Mayer Tops Nation's High Salary Executives; Gable Runs Second

By BILL BLAIR
Philadelphia, May 28 (AP)—Louis B. Mayer, the 57-year-old Russian-born movie executive who began his career as a Massachusetts theatre operator, topped the field of America's highest paid executives again last year with an income of $704,425.60 as managing director of production for Loew's, Inc.

Axis Move Seen in Mediterranean Area

London diplomatic sources saw signs of an Axis land and naval campaign in the Mediterranean region in the following developments: (1) German efforts to get control of French warships at Toulon and Bizerte; (2) Italian demands for Nice, Corsica and Tunisia; (3) increased Italian activity in North Africa; (4) a new strong Axis drive in Libya; and (5) presence of strong Italian forces in Greece and the Dodecanese Islands and training of German paratroopers in Crete.

Big Aim of Desert War Is Destruction Of Enemy Machine

British-German Maneuvers Are Almost Impossible to Follow; Fixed Defenses Few

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT (Wide World Staff Analyst)

The opening phase of the fifth major conflict in the African desert is more like a great battle at sea between powerful fleets than anything else.

Sweeping over trackless sand like naval task forces, the armored columns circle in search of the mobile enemy, swoop, withdraw, and spar again for advantage. The gaining or holding of ground means nothing in itself; the whole object is destruction of the enemy tank squadrons. Fixed defenses are very few—like sea ports which are defended at a distance. Maneuverability is limited only by the endurance of machines and men.

Right now the armored striking forces of Marshal Rommel's German Afrika Korps is endeavoring to annihilate the British mechanized units which defend the hot, shimmering approaches to Tobruk, the desert "port" which is the key to any general advance into Egypt.

It is a touch-and-go affair, almost impossible to follow in its evolution. The Germans and Italians, eagerly, have not even mentioned in their communiques that an attack has begun. The terrible heat of this season is an important hazard which the German commander must overcome, although it must be realized that (Continued on Page Nine)

Axis Claim Is Given Denial in Brazil

Recife, Brazil, May 28 (AP)—The arrival of the Argentine steamer Rio Iguaçu today with 52 survivors of the torpedoed British ship Barrdale knocked one of the principal props from under the week-old Italian claim to have torpedoed and sunk a United States battleship of the Maryland class.

The Rome radio for several days had been broadcasting statements that the survivors picked up by the Rio Iguaçu were from the United States battleship.

It was disclosed here that the Barrdale, attacked May 17, 450 miles off Martinique, sank within four minutes after a torpedo exploded in her engine room. The crew was picked up from lifeboats the next day.

P.S.C. Announces Revision of Rates

Central Hudson's Schedule to Bring $29,000 Net Savings to Users

The Public Service Commission at Albany has announced schedule revisions by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., which will result in a net saving of more than $29,000 per annum for gas and electric customers of that utility. The company serves gas and electricity in the cities of Poughkeepsie, Beacon, Newburgh and Kingston and a large territory adjacent to these cities.

The total reductions principally in the commercial and industrial classifications and to rural customers will amount to $56,000. There will, however, be increases of about $26,700 resulting from the elimination of estimated demands in the commercial and industrial classifications and from an increased charge for commercial heating service which will leave an estimated reduction in the company's annual revenue of $29,300 per annum.

Elimination of the estimated demand for commercial and industrial users will greatly simplify the rate structure in these classifications. In instances where the demand had been underestimated the revision will bring about some increases but the decreases resulting from this change will be greater than the increases by about $7,000.

About 1,700 rural customers will benefit from the changes as a result of modification of the company's minimum monthly line extension charges. The company's present line extension plan applies in localities where the average length of line is less than 440 feet per customer. The new filing liberalizes that provision by making the extension plan applicable only when the average length is less than 650 feet per customer. This change eliminates the rural minimum charges where the customer density is over 8 per mile.

U. S. Pork Rations Possible, Livestock Authorities Think

'Self-Rationing' Might Be Necessary Due to Buying Under Lease-Lend by Government

Chicago, May 28 (AP)—Expansion of the government's pork buying program, under which purchases this year already have doubled those of 1941, caused livestock men to wonder today if some form of domestic rationing wouldn't be necessary before the end of the year.

The government's buying program operates primarily for lease-lend purposes—the pork is exported to the United Nations. It is considered essential in maintaining their morale and fighting effectiveness.

Livestock men do not believe the public fully comprehends the extent of lease-lend buying. The following table compares purchases in 1942 up to May 23 with those from March, 1941, when lease-lend started, through December, 1941:

	1942	1941
Cured pork, lb.	450,127,000	243,030,000
Canned p.k., lbs.	575,953,000	230,022,000
Frozen p.k., lbs.	48,253,000	None
Hog carcasses, bds.	2,235,000	1,767,000

This, however, is only a start. The Agricultural Marketing Administration, which does the purchasing, is scheduled to take 40 per cent of all pork produced during the next several months, at least. This is a larger percentage than the agency has bought so far in 1942.

Such a program inevitably leads to speculation on pork rationing—a subject nobody wants to mention officially, but which nevertheless (Continued on Page 11)

Denies Evasion

C. F. Taylor, vice-president of the Lincoln Electric Co., of Cleveland, O., denied before the House naval committee in Washington, that the company paid out large bonuses—such as the $40,000 he received in 1941—to escape payment of income and other federal taxes. The company has large war contracts.

Blakeley Escapes to Anglo Port

Somervell's Announcement Comes at Time Anglo Clamor Rises for Attack

Reports Vary

Soviet-German News on Kharkov Battle Is Confused

By ROGER D. GREENE (Associated Press War Editor)

Lieut.-Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, general commanding the U. S. army service of supply, declared in London today that the United States stands ready to supply "men and materials on a large scale to a European battlefield," even as Adolf Hitler's field headquarters claimed victory in the critical battle south of Kharkov.

Meanwhile, the British news agency Reuters reported that an Axis submarine was believed sunk yesterday off St. Lucia. British West Indies, after a second U-boat attack on the damaged U. S. destroyer Blakeley in the Caribbean.

The Blakeley was first torpedoed off Martinique on Monday. The German high command said a Nazi U-boat attacked the destroyer and blew her bow away.

The Blakeley arrived safely at St. Lucia last night, escaping the U-boat wolf pack, it was announced. One and possibly two of the undersize marauders were reported sunk.

Gen. Somervell's statement, coinciding with a rising British clamor for direct action against Germany, said the United States was able to send men and supplies despite the shipping shortage and large commitments in Australia and India.

Russia has frequently urged Britain and the United States to open a second front against Hitler's armies this summer.

While the bloody battle of Kharkov swirled toward a climax, Britain's desert armies struggled against a furious new Axis offensive in North Africa, a drive aimed at Egypt and the green valley of the Nile.

Axis Thrusts Repulsed
British headquarters said tank-led Axis thrusts had been repulsed on both flanks of the Libyan battle scene, but an R. A. F. communique acknowledged that Axis mechanized forces had advanced within 15 miles of the main British stronghold at Tobruk.

The R. A. F. said British fighters bombed the enemy throughout yesterday in the El Adem and Bir Hacheim areas.

This indicated that Axis tanks had knifed about 30 miles past the British forward defense system, which stretched between Bir Hacheim and Ain El Gazala.

El Adem is 15 miles south of Tobruk. Bir Hacheim 50 miles southeast.

On the Soviet front, the Russians reported that the Germans were staging "psychological attacks" in which the Nazis charged Red Army lines, firing wildly and shouting at the top of their lungs. In one such attack, 1,000 "psychologists" were left dead on the field.

Nazi Wounded

A German radio broadcast reported that Reinhard Heydrich, acting Reich's protector for Bohemia and Moravia, had been wounded in an attempt on his life. The report came from D. N. B. at Prague.

Rotarians Hear Of Proposals for Permanent Peace

Dr. James T. Harrington, a prominent Rotarian of this district, and a member of the Poughkeepsie Rotary Club since 1915, gave a thought-provoking talk on "Permanent Peace" at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Total disarmament with a well organized international police force to enforce the law was the foundation for the plan as outlined by Dr. Harrington. That the total absence of war means peace is a logical conclusion, he stated.

Americans should give thought now to winning the war, establishing a lasting peace and also to the perpetuation of our present form of government.

In the plan of total disarmament, not over 25 per cent of the national force would be among the police force in any one country. The world would be divided into nations, segregated and kept within the confines of the nation. Relations between countries would be commercial to the border and no nation would be permitted to penetrate another nation.

To demonstrate the division into nations, he said, Alaska would be a separate nation under the plan. There would be no exchange of money between nations, only goods would be used and railroads would have to stop at the border, where goods would be transferred to the nation's transportation facilities. All contacts would be limited to this extent. All nations would be self-sufficient under this system. The plan has proved feasible for years in both Japan and China.

There would be no reparations after the war, each country standing on its own expenses for the conflict.

Under this plan the winners would outline the future course to the exclusion of the losers.

The general basis for the post-war world under the plan of disarmament and international police force as outlined by the speaker would also help in the unemployment problem, which always follows the return of the soldiers to civilian life. With the world's population estimated at two billion people and with one police officer for every 500, there would be a force of about four million police. This number would be smaller than the present German army or the army planned by the United States.

He exhorted the Rotarians to give thought to peace, which is desired by 95 per cent of the people of the earth.

Now She Sues

New York, May 28 (UP)—He courted her in a fine new car, Sayde Marcus told the judge, and even gave her a diamond ring. But after she loaned him $1,500, Robert G. Kramer seemed to lose interest. Miss Marcus, 23, said, and so she sued her erstwhile suitor for her money. Kramer, 36, won an adjournment of the case until October 20 by giving back $500 of the $1,500 he admitted borrowing, but Miss Marcus was still peeved. Said she: "That diamond ring he gave me—my mother gave him the stone and all he supplied was the mounting."

Democrats Back Bennett

Manuel, N. Y., May 28 (UP)—Endorsement of Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., by the Rockland county Democratic committee was interpreted today as eliminating State Chairman James A. Farley as a gubernatorial candidate. Since Farley is a native of Rockland county, Democratic leaders took the committee's action last night—the 29th such endorsement voted Bennett—as tantamount to the former national chairman's decision not to seek or accept the Democratic nomination.

Pertinent Facts On Conscription

Selective Service in New York state proposes to cooperate to the fullest extent with the State War Council in carrying out the council's physical fitness plan. Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, state director of Selective Service, said today, stating he had issued a bulletin to all local boards requesting their cooperation.

Last week, Governor Lehman informed the chairman of the local war councils of the details of the plan to develop the full manpower of the state under the direction of a Division of Physical Fitness. The division under Dr. Herman A. Jones, director, State Education Building, Albany, has organized a program to improve the physical condition of New York's pre-registered youth. Selective Service registrants prior to induction, workers in war industries, and civilian protection workers.

"No other war has required such tremendous physical effort on the part of everyone," General Brown said. "A part of Germany's preparation was the physical training of its youth. We now read that industrial effort in Germany is lagging behind due to the physical exhaustion of the workers. Certainly, we should take steps that experience has found to be wise."

"It is important that pre-registered youth shall train to be able to withstand physical hardship. It is equally important that registrants, not yet inducted into the armed forces, shall secure and maintain the highest degree of physical fitness to increase their ability as workers and prepare them for possible military service. For their own sake as well as for the country, induction workers and civilian protection workers must not lose sight of the fact that physical fitness will add greatly to their value in the war effort."

The Division of Physical Fitness will organize, direct, and supervise the State War Council's physical fitness plan, the program being conducted by Dr. Jones, as state director, deputy staff assisted by a state advisory committee appointed by the governor. Christopher C. Mollenhauer, of Brooklyn, has been appointed as chairman of the advisory committee.

Locally, the physical fitness plan operates from the city and county war council with the help of a local advisory committee. The local war council's program cooperates with, coordinates, implements, and expands the physical fitness efforts and activities of all agencies and organizations existing in the community.

General Brown said that the bulletin he had issued brings the plan to the attention of the local boards with request that they cooperate in every way possible to carry out the purpose of the program.

Army Will Name Those Who Violate Dim-Out

New York, May 28 (UP)—Cracking its martial whip over the heads of dim-out violators, the army begins within two days "naming names" of those not cooperating with its rules for darkening the metropolitan area nightly.

This was announced last night by Major General Thomas A. Terry, commanding the Second Corps Area, in declaring the violators would be singled out "so that the local authorities may give direct warnings."

The alternative to heeding the warnings, General Terry said, was for the offenders to face the federal government, which has "certain penalties for people who persistently and intentionally violate the law."

Henry Ford Shows Enthusiasm Over Willow Run Total

Automotive Industrialist Sees Reason for Belief Mass Production of Planes Possible

By DAVID J. WILKIE

(Wide World Automotive Editor)
Detroit, May 28.—Volume of massive four-engine bomber planes rapidly is approaching at the Great Willow Run aircraft factory and one of the most gratified individuals connected with the undertaking is Henry Ford.

It was two years ago today that Ford, apostle of mass production, asserted that under certain conditions he could build 1,000 airplanes a day. He was talking about pursuit ships. Whether he could have produced that many planes a day never has been wholly agreed upon among his fellow motorcar manufacturers. There were many who openly scoffed at the claim.

The pioneer automobile builder, nearing his 75th birthday, however, never ceased to believe the task would have been nothing more than an "assembly job."

While he had no opportunity to test his ability to make 1,000 pursuit planes a day, he has accomplished it at Willow Run something that in many ways is equally startling and unbelievable. At less than 13 months he has converted a farm and wooded section some 30 miles from Detroit into a gigantic aircraft factory bigger than anything the world ever has seen and has mass output of the aerial battleships in sight.

Never Dreamed of Such

Neither Ford nor any of the aircraft industry's engineers dreamed of mass production of bomber planes two years ago when the noted industrialist talked about volume output of pursuit ships. Yet today the plans for Willow Run, with a mile of assembly lines and using the combined production technique of both automobile and aircraft industries, call for the giant planes to roll out "by the dozens" each day.

To Ford, who once built 10,000 automobiles in one day, bringing Willow Run from rough acreage to the stage of bomber plane production in only a few weeks more than a year isn't nearly as startling as it is to the average individual. It has developed precisely as he expected when land clearing operations were begun, although production expectations have been increased several times.

To thoroughly appreciate what the production of dozens of bomber planes in one factory each day entails you have to get a close-up view of one of the Leviathans of the skies in its finished state and also in knocked-down form with its thousands of components scattered over dozens of sub-assembly lines.

As late as last summer when structural steel began to give shape to the Willow Run factory Ford firmly believed the United States would not become an active participant in the war. At the same time he agreed there was need for a powerful national defense.

With the unprovoked attack on Pearl Harbor he made it clear that although he never has ceased to deprecate war he was in this one to the limit of his productive capacity.

Associated With War

Today every activity of the thousands of workers the Ford organization is associated with the war effort.

If Ford correctly appraises the post-war prospect Willow Run will continue to turn out airplanes after hostilities cease—not in the same volume as the war effort demands, but in considerably greater numbers than any American factory made them in the pre-war days.

In thus confirming his intention to remain in aviation after the war, Ford said: "You'll be amazed at the need there'll be for airplanes after the war."

He visualizes a great expansion in aerial freight and passenger traffic, although he says bluntly that "we lug things around too much now."

But Right Now, the slender,

slightly stooped production genius is thinking solely in terms of war necessity and an ever increasing flow of giant bombers out of Willow Run. He smiles just perceptibly when he talks about it. Over the years he has heard many persons say something "couldn't be done." It was said about Willow Run and the mass production of bomber aircraft.

"There it is," says Ford.

Repaired by members of a 150-year-old form of coachbuilders, the carriage used by Florence Nightingale in the Crimea has been returned to St. Thomas Hospital, London, where it originally stood until shattered by bombs during air raids.

New York Stores Away Its Glittering Lights to Lessen Sky-Glow Which Aids U-Boats

By DON WHITEHEAD
New York, May 28 (Wide World)

At last the shadows of war are closing in on New York.

The mayor is tucking away its glittering neon and incandescent lights like a dowager who has decided to remove the family jewels from her bedroom for the duration, to be less conspicuous.

There's a somewhat grim and brooding atmosphere about the big town these nights.

The streets are becoming dimly lit. The towering buildings loom dark against the soft sky, with only occasional spots of lighted windows to sharpen in a restless ebb and flow.

But with all the dim-out that has robbed the city of its garish, colorful, sparkling glare, the shadows must become even deeper to remove the sky-glow from millions of twinkling lights which might silhouette ships for enemy submarines lurking off shore.

Major General T. A. Terry, commanding the Second Corps Area, said the city's glow was still a "murderous mound of light" endangering the ships of the United Nations.

Authorities are considering a blackout of advertising signs for the duration and further dimming of street lamps.

Tourists who come to New York for their summer vacations are going to find the city has changed its night-time appearance since they last saw it.

The Gay White Way? It's still gay enough behind the blackout curtains. The night spots and bars and dime-a-dance halls are crowded, even though outside it's only a shadowy ghost of its old self.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, May 28.—Mrs. Sarah Osterhout was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening by her children and grandchildren in honor of her 80th birthday. During the evening a lovely birthday cake and home made ice cream were served. Those present were her children: Mrs. Jennie Hornbeck, Mrs. Annie Smith, Mrs. Daisy Kortright and Phil Palen and her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith and son, Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hornbeck, Miss Katherine Hornbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hornbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Kortright and Mr. and Mrs. Harold DuBois. Mrs. Osterhout received many gifts and upon leaving the guests extended their best wishes to Mrs. Osterhout for many more happy birthdays.

Miss Lorna Van Orden, daughter of Mrs. Sol Van Orden of New Paltz, has been placed in Chester, as home economics teacher there. Miss Van Orden is a senior at Russell Sage College, Troy.

Frederick E. Humphrey, son of Mrs. Harry Humphrey and Ellsworth M. Buchanan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Buchanan of New Paltz were among 300 students graduated Sunday at the commencement exercises at Bepeseller Polytechnic Institute in Troy. Mr. Humphrey received the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration, he graduated from New Paltz high school at Rensselaer. He was active in the Radio Club and Stephen Van Rensselaer Club. Mr. Buchanan received the degree of Bachelor of Industrial Engineering. He was graduated from New Paltz high school. At R. P. I. he served on the junior board of the Transit, student yearbook and later as literary editor and was treasurer of Delta Tau fraternity.

The Elementary School Conference which was scheduled to be held at New Paltz Teachers' College the past week was canceled owing to gasoline and tire shortage that promised a drastic reduction in attendance was reported by Benjamin H. Matteson of the faculty. The conference was held for the first time last year when more than 400 grammar school principals, class room teachers and administrative officers from Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Columbia, Rockland, Sullivan, Orange, Ulster and Greene counties attended. The committee in charge hopes to arrange another conference as soon as conditions are more favorable Mr. Matteson said.

The Youth Fellowship met Sunday evening in the Upper Room of the Reformed Church. The subject for the meeting was "Making Friendship Last." Margaret Taylor was the leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Hasbrouck visited New York, last Friday. Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Seward entertained the Monday club last week.

Local bankers attending the banquet of the Kingston banking educational section of the American Bankers Association held in the Stuyvesant Hotel Saturday night were: Harold Wood and Mrs. Wood, DeWitt Clinton Seward and Mrs. Seward, Howard Grimm and Mrs. Grimm, Henry DuBois and Mrs. DuBois, President of New Paltz Savings Bank, Howard Grimm was appointed a director succeeding DeWitt Clinton Seward, cashier of the New Paltz Huguenot Bank. Awards were made one of which was given to Henry DuBois of the New Paltz Huguenot Bank. Mr. DuBois was one of three men who earned 100 per cent in his examination and 100 per cent in his class work.

The Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Coons of Margaretville called on friends in town Thursday. Mr. Coons is a former pastor of New Paltz Methodist Church.

Elks' Service Club Dedication Tonight

Louis G. Bruhn, exalted ruler of Kingston Lodge No. 550, B. P. O. Elks, urges every member of the lodge to be on hand at the meeting of the lodge tonight when the club service flag will be dedicated. Since the Elks throughout its history has emphasized the patriotic foundations of the order, all members should be on hand to see the address of P. E. R. John M. Cashin in presenting the flag in honor of the many members in the armed services.

The committee securing the flag consists of P. E. R. Joseph H. Rosenberg, Aaron Lipkin, G. D. Logan, Vincent G. Connelly and Lecturing Knight William Krum. Preceding the meeting the association of past exalted rulers under the presidency of William F. Edelmut will enjoy its monthly dinner at the club house.

Heir to Riches Killed

Just as he was about to inherit $50,000 left him in 1934, Lieutenant Peter Morrish, 24, of the British Army, was killed in action in the Middle East. The fortune was left him by Mrs. Sybil G. Morrish, a widow, who had adopted him. He was 17 when she died, and in her will she had provided that he was to get the estate when he was 25.

Glen Cove, N. Y.—Frank Doxey, the local dog catcher, was hailed as a hero today after capturing a man-eating rooster that had been terrorizing residents for several days.

Eating up their favorite rose bushes was not too bad an offense, home-owners said, but when the rooster took several bites out of Mrs. Maurice Cohen's legs and pecked at her back, that was something else again.

Summoned post-haste after the felonious assault, Doxey snared the wild bird with a neat cast of his net, and it now resides behind bars.

Kansas City—Rose Thomas, a foot doctor, told police that a young man visited her office and after he left she discovered her purse containing $68 was gone too.

Portland, Ore.—Edward Albertson, home on a brief vacation, told friends how he tried to take a picture of the submarine that torpedoed his freighter in the Gulf of Mexico. When the torpedo hit, he rushed to his cabin, grabbed his camera, pointed at the sub and clicked the shutter.

A cup of water poured out.

Really Wants Help

Tucson, Ariz.—A police sergeant found four employees of a food market dividing a batch of groceries stolen from the store truck and it developed they had taken $100 of merchandise in two weeks. Remarking that help is scarce these days, the proprietor allowed them to pay up and keep their jobs.

Cat's Eyes, Maybe?

Dallas — Policeman Lee May gave chase to a suspicious looking automobile last night and fired three times at a distance of about a block. Two shots struck the fleeing car's rear tires and the other punctured the gas tank.

The navy has rejected him because of poor eyesight.

There are more than 665,000 buildings in New York city.

THE KILLERS

In the case of both the Nazis and Japanese, it is often hard to tell whether they kill people for military reasons or just for the sake of killing. Presumably they have reasons connected either with immediate strategy or long-range objectives. But surely the men who do the actual killing, at the command of their superiors, must often be in doubt as to the purpose and legitimacy of their slaughter.

Indiscriminate killing probably is easier for the Japanese than for the Germans, because they are so different from Europeans in their racial attitude and their respect for human life. Yet the Germans themselves, however tender-hearted in their normal living, seem to have been so hardened under Hitler that they are incredibly docile in carrying out savage orders. Civilians are often slaughtered en masse, without any evident military purpose except the illegitimate one of inspiring deadly fear.

In former and more civilized eras, people everywhere would shrink in horror at crimes now commonplace. Hitler and his docile subordinates, not content with looting conquered areas of western Europe to the extent of $36,000,000,000 in cash and goods, have shot nearly half a million people in addition to all the strictly military slaughter. It is indeed Genghis Khan, the great medieval killer and looter, all over again.

THE DIVIDED FRENCH

Two Free French governors on New Caledonia are in conflict. The U. S. and Great Britain have urged Gen. Charles de Gaulle to straighten this out and to clear up similar situations in Syria and French Equatorial Africa.

Military adherents of de Gaulle want him to stick to military objectives. Other elements want him to adopt political objectives. The U. S. has given military but not political recognition to the movement.

Besides these minor uncertainties in the Free French government in exile, there are greater matters of indecision and uncertainty in France itself.

De Gaulle is pre-eminently a military leader. The German successes of the first years of the war were based on de Gaulle's own book. The war of swift movement, of flexible troops, is de Gaulle's idea. His own people rejected it in favor of the Maginot Line theory.

But de Gaulle has had no experience in civil administration. In the political field, one does not "say to a man, 'Go!' and he goes; say to him 'Do this!' and he doeth it" as many famous army men have found to their cost. He enters a land of compromise, of give-and-take based on temperament and historical precedent. So minor troubles are not surprising.

If the French can get one great idea, they can yet save themselves. The word is Unity. Individual preferences, parties, theories, must give way to the common good. They must follow one leader, whether or not they approve him. Unity is the only thing that now can save France free.

OVER THE HUMP

There is good news in recent figures of war production. American industry, in spite of what seemed a slow start, has shamed the pessimists and done the impossible. War goods to the amount of $20,000,000,000 were turned out last year. It was hoped to double that for this year. But so rapidly has output rolled up that, instead of $40,000,000,000 worth for 1942, the output is now expected to reach $58,000,000,000, nearly three times as great as last year.

So, Uncle Sam is beginning to produce the war materials at a rate never matched before, not even by the German war machine when concentrating the utmost effort of several countries on that job after years of preparation. From now on we should be able to swamp Hitler with armament—if we deliver it over there.

Transportation is the bottleneck now. Too many carrier ships are being sunk. When that difficulty is overcome, as it was in the last war, and will be in this one, our enemies will be sunk—Germany first and then Japan.

RISING AIR POWER

Major Alexander de Seversky probably is right in his glorification of air power, only he seems a little ahead of the game.

Wars may be won in the air, over the land and over the sea, if given the right kind of equipment and enough of it. The present war strongly suggests this conclusion, in spite of the effectiveness with which Russia is using tanks and even old-fashioned cavalry. We seem to be coming into an era when, although armies and navies continue, the "air arm" will be superior to them and will normally bear the main brunt of warfare.

Navies may become primarily carriers and supply bases for war planes. There may be an end to what Seversky calls "the complex absurdity of building airplanes to protect navies against airplanes, so that navies may do the work which the airplanes can do far more quickly, more economically and without dependence on the support of another service."

But much of this expansion of aerial warfare is still in the future. For the duration of the present war, at least, the big knockout blows may continue to be delivered by land and sea forces, supplemented by an increasingly powerful "air arm." The control of the world by aerial police forces imagined by Rudyard Kipling early in this century is yet in the future.

UNKIND WEATHER

Reich Marshal Hermann Goering spoke a few days ago at a celebration where decorations were conferred on workers. He told his audience that the elements had not been kind to the German armies. "Last year's harvest was bad. Now we rejoice in good weather, but we hope it will rain soon, for we need rain. The winter campaign in Russia has been terrible."

Goering does not mention the fact that other nations, as well as the weather, have been cracking down. As Shakespeare sung:

"Blow, blow, thou winter wind,
Thou art not so unkind
As man's ingratitude."

For if the Nazis viewed the Russian weather as unkind, they haven't found the Russian company exactly genial and jovial, either.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)
TREATMENT OF DIZZINESS

For many years the home treatment of dizziness was a dose of Epsom salts—magnesium sulphate. This dose was given because dizziness was thought due to a sluggish liver and gall bladder and constipation. As a matter of fact, many cases of dizziness are due to those conditions and the treatment by Epsom salts is considered correct.

There are, however, many cases of dizziness due to disturbance—swelling of the tissues—about the balancing canals of the inner ear. Any drug that will remove water from the system, as does Epsom salts, would be considered good treatment.

Treatment by Epsom salts is, however, not the method of treatment for dizziness now used by physicians. Dr. K. M. Simonton, in Proceedings Staff Meeting, Mayo Clinic, states that severe vertigo—dizziness—should be treated by (1) rest in bed; (2) avoidance of all movement, especially sudden movement; (3) avoidance of sudden sounds and light; (4) raising the head of the bed to prevent congestion in the inner ear; (5) moderate doses of atropine (to open up blood vessels) and a quieting drug; (6) a soft, light diet; and (7) magnesium sulphate—Epsom salts—taken by mouth.

If attacks of dizziness are accompanied by head noises and loss of hearing (Meniere's disease), the patient is instructed to take six 7½ grain tablets of ammonium chloride, three times daily with meals, for three days; no medicine is then taken for two days; and the tablets are repeated for three days. No salt is allowed at the table and very little is to be used in cooking. No baking soda—sodium bicarbonate—or other drug containing sodium should be used. To keep the patient free from dizziness, this treatment must be always kept up.

When there is dizziness only and the dizziness is "up and down" rather than "round and round," the liver and gall bladder are considered at fault and Epsom salts is used. When the dizziness is "round and round" there are head noises, loss of hearing, nausea and vomiting, eating food low in salt and omitting salt with and in food may give relief without the ammonium chloride.

In all cases of dizziness, the suggestions of Dr. Simonton should be followed as closely as possible.

Buzzing Ears

Many persons are afflicted with buzzing ears and head noises (Meniere's disease). Send today for Dr. Barton's new leaflet entitled "Diet Suggestions in Buzzing Ears" which has helped many sufferers. All you have to do is send a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Barton, Post Office Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y., and ask for leaflet by name.

Today in Washington

Senate Listens to Number of Ministers in Its Search for Chaplain of Chamber
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 28.—The United States Senate is listening to a number of pastors as guest chaplains before selecting a permanent chaplain to succeed the late Rev. Z. Barney Phillips. Most people do not know that while the House and the Senate proceedings are opened each day with prayer nowhere in the executive branch of the government is any public business transacted with prayer as a part of the proceedings.

The idea that public officials be reminded of spiritual obligations is not new, but it takes on added significance at a time when hundreds of decisions are being made daily that inevitably must send thousands of young men to death. The weight of responsibility in the executive agencies nowadays for the fate of the youth of the nation transcends anything experienced before. It is, therefore, not inappropriate that the action of government be mingled with a solemn sense of responsibility to the spiritual side of life.

In all the churches, irrespective of creed, there is every week-end a prayer for the Chief Executive and the high officials of our government. During wartime these prayers are even more fervently rendered, as it is recognized that government has become the sole trustee of the fate of millions of men in uniform.

In Britain, as the air raids of 1940 swept the land, people of all classes prayed together in the underground shelters. It produced a democracy of spiritual allegiance which had never been witnessed before. Similarly the churches in America are finding an increased response in these war days.

Government in America sets an example. While there is absolutely no relationship of a formal nature between church and state, there can be no question about the overwhelming adherence of the American people to the ideal that so much as possible public officials should express and adhere to the basic principles of Christian philosophy in their conduct of national and international affairs.

If there were introduced in the executive agencies a brief period of silent prayer or meditation, or even in the larger departments of the government, a short prayer by guest chaplains at noon, it might help to develop throughout the country a feeling of spiritual interest deeper perhaps in wartime than heretofore.

The efficacy of prayer is occasionally brushed aside by cynical minded persons who consider it an evidence of a "soft" attitude. This is often merely a form of resistance to spiritual obligation and such a point of view is most interestingly rebutted nowadays in the letters coming back to parents from their sons in the war.

"AT CENTURY'S TURN"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

The other day I wrote of the action taken by the Board of Public Works in making Railroad avenue and Thomas street one-way streets. The other day I ran across an old clipping that stated that on August 31, 1925, the board rescinded the ordinance.

The ordinance had originally been adopted over the protests of business interests on both streets, and when the ordinance went into effect further objections were lodged with the board which led to the rescinding of the ordinance.

Local politics began to simmer in Kingston in August, 1925, when the Republicans chose Judge Frederick Stephan as candidate for mayor to oppose Mayor Morris Block, the Democratic choice. E. J. Dempsey was selected as the Republican candidate for alderman at large while J. Philip Beichert was the choice of the Democrats.

Mayor Block was re-elected that year, while Mr. Dempsey defeated Mr. Beichert.

Washington In Wartime

By Jack Stinnett

By JACK STINNETT
Washington—Josephus Daniels at the age of 80 succeeded his son as editor of his Raleigh, N. C., newspaper. That along with being secretary of the Navy for eight years, ambassador to Mexico and a number of other things should be enough for any one man's claim to fame in a lifetime, but it isn't.

The elder Daniels holds one more distinction which no other man does (and probably none ever will be able to) lay claim to. It happened this way:

Back in pre-World War I days, Daniels got the telegram from the newly elected President Woodrow Wilson. The President asked if he would accept the post of secretary of the Navy. Daniels hesitated. He took the telegram home and discussed it with his wife.

If he accepted, he speculated, how about his assistant secretary? There was young Franklin D. Roosevelt. How would he do?

Mrs. Daniels thought he was a splendid young man. Daniels carried his acceptance personally to Mr. Wilson. How about young "Frank" Roosevelt for assistant secretary? Mr. Wilson thought he was a splendid young man. So Franklin D. Roosevelt became World War I assistant secretary of the Navy.

Many years later, Josephus Daniels attended the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President of the United States.

When President Roosevelt saw him, he said: "Hello, Chief."

Through the regular editorial channels open to him, the octogenarian already has let loose some blasts about the social inequalities of the Army enlisted man that have attracted the attention of Congress.

Ripping into a few regular Army social traditions and regulations regarding the relationship between privates and commissioned officers, the President's "chief" served notice on the Army that these days are different. For one thing, the "chief" said it was utterly ridiculous that privates and non-coms are not allowed to have dates with Army nurses (Army nurses, being lieutenant or of the higher rank, are not supposed to hobnob socially with enlisted men).

Congress is investigating. Apparently the President's "chief" also gets an ear on Capitol Hill.

Too Much Emphasis Is Put on 'Native Ability'

Too much faith has been put in intelligence tests and vocational guidance tests as an indication of a child's unchangeable ability, according to Dr. C. C. Peters.

It is Dr. Peters' contention so-called "native ability" has been overemphasized in our homes, schools, and that too little attention has been paid to improving ability by training and development.

"Except in extreme cases, it is impossible to say that an infant growing up to be intelligent or stupid," Dr. Peters declared.

He should center our attention on helping children to acquire certain abilities rather than on predicting whether or not they have them.

To the extent to which it is possible to overcome deficiencies, and help people into varying levels of intelligence is an undemocratic procedure, he added. The democratic way would be to offer all people the opportunity to increase their talents.

Schools to Train Glider Pilots For Air Forces

The Army air forces will begin training large numbers of glider pilots under an expansion program to be inaugurated June 1, the War Department announced today.

The program will open a new field within the Army air forces to many civilian pilots who heretofore have been ineligible for aviation cadet training, and to former Army, Navy and civilian flying trainees who have been eliminated before completion of training.

Glider pilot candidates will receive preliminary training at 18 Civil Aeronautics Authority schools located principally in the Middle West. Nine additional schools will be utilized for elementary and advanced training courses, which will include instruction in piloting cargo type gliders.

On completion of their training, glider pilots will be authorized to wear the Army air forces wings with a distinctive glider insignia superimposed.

Civilian candidates, who must be between the ages of 18 and 36, will be accepted at any Army recruiting station and will receive transportation to a reception center for examination and classification before reporting for preliminary training.

At preliminary schools glider pilot candidates will be trained in light motor-driven airplanes, with major emphasis being placed on "dead stick" landings to familiarize students with one of the more difficult features of glider piloting. Courses in preliminary schools will last four weeks.

A week's training in small, two-place gliders will be given students as the first half of their elementary and advanced work. The second and final weeks will be devoted to instruction in cargo types.

Physically and mentally qualified applicants whose status is included in any one of the following categories are eligible for enlistment:

Graduates of Civil Pilot Training Schools of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Holders of the Civil Aeronautics Authority private airman certificate which had not lapsed prior to January 1, 1941.

Former aviation cadets who have had 50 hours in Army or Navy type training planes.

Applicants who are able to submit satisfactory evidence of participation in at least 200 glider flights.

The physical examination given applicants for glider pilot training is that prescribed for aviator cadets with a rating of class 2 or better. Vision must be at least 20/40, correctable to 20/20. Civilian applicants will get the Army general classification test at reception centers to determine their mental aptitude, after which they will be enlisted in the Army Air Forces Enlisted Reserve and assigned to a preliminary training school.

Men in the military service who have not taken the classification test will be required to do so in order to qualify for training. Qualified officers are eligible for training in-grade without taking the test.

All students who have completed the glider training course will receive the rating of glider pilot with flight pay. Those who enter the program as civilians will receive the grade of staff sergeant on graduation. Army personnel in the grades of private, private first class, corporal and sergeant will be promoted to the grade of staff sergeant when they complete the course. Non-commissioned officers in higher grades and commissioned officers will retain their status.

Taxis Stage Protest

Five thousand Mexico City cab drivers staged a four-hour stoppage of traffic as a protest against new regulations, which included collection of fines from drivers and threats of penalties. Taxis which failed to join the strike were turned over, the windows smashed and occupants beaten. Later the new rules were suspended and all arrested drivers released.

Save Blood to Aid U. S. Raid Victims

NEW YORK.—A portion of the 1,000,000 unit supply of blood plasma collected by the American Red Cross will be available for treatment of civilian air raid victims, should enemy planes strike American objectives, according to Stuart M. Crocker, vice chairman of the Red Cross war fund of greater New York.

Spring Plowin' Really Pays!

Wide World Features

It sure didn't look like an ordinary plowing job Harry A. White was doing on his farm near Pueblo, Colo. The neighbors watched him go over, and over, the field. (Maybe, they figured, it's something about boosting production for the war.) Then Harry got out of his cultivator, and he went over that field three times. Then, he hitched a potato digger to the tractor. That was all wrong—you don't dig potatoes in the spring. All of a sudden, Harry hopped off the tractor, stooped over and straightened up with a big smile. He just found his wallet with $618, that he lost the first time he plowed. He'd been looking—and plowing—ever since.

PORT EWEN

'Red' Begins to Think Hex of Fortune Teller Is Broken

U. S. Aviator, Told He Would Not Pass 28th Birthday, Spends It Stamming Japs

By WILLIAM HIPPLE

Aboard a U. S. Warship with the Allied Forces, (Delayed) (Wide World)—Probably the happiest—and most relieved—man aboard this warship as it steamed away following an attack on Japanese positions in New Guinea was a certain, red-haired young aviator.

"Red" celebrated his 28th birthday in his single-seated fighter, charging at a terrific speed on enemy ships in Salamaua.

After strafing a tender and a transport, blowing up two motor launches and raking enemy barges, the flier returned to the ship without a scratch and grinning broadly.

He had beaten the jinx which had threatened to cut short his life—a "hex" he said was put upon him by a fortune-teller years ago. At that time, the fortune-teller forecast a number of events to take place in Red's life. He laughed at the idea, but one by one the events came true.

He began to worry. Finally, all the forecasts had come true but one—that he would not pass his 28th birthday.

The flier became obsessed with this thought. As a result, he took every precaution in his flying trips. Feeling that the chief danger was to be lost at sea and then drift in his rubber boat, perhaps to a wild island, the ensign collected equipment to take along on every flight.

Included in Equipment

The equipment included: Fish-hooks and fish-line, a hunting knife, an extra flashlight, extra ammunition, revolver, a small can of oil to keep his revolver in condition, extra patching equipment for the rubber boat, quinine, extra food rations, spare compressed air tubes for his life jacket, a waterproof cigar lighter.

He always carried a $10 bill under his identification tag and a picture of his girl friend, for good luck. He recently took out additional life insurance and left money for the premium with a shipmate. He studied up on the best method to battle a shark.

Just before the New Guinea attack, he added several items to his collection, including cufflinks, shiny uniform buttons and various trinkets to trade to the natives on the island should he be forced down. From the galley, he secured a meat cleaver to hack his way through the jungles.

Much of this equipment he carried continually, because he never knew which plane he would fly. For that reason he was nicknamed "Paunchy" by his fellow aviators "because he bulged in places."

By a peculiar circumstance, an attack against Jap positions in

New Guinea fell on his 28th birthday—the supposed deadline of his life.

"I thought I'd make it," he said as he climbed out of his plane, "but I'm sure glad it's over. Now I've got nothing to worry about."

Old-fashioned Style Going Out

Old-fashioned textbook learning is being replaced by learning through hands, eyes, ears, and other sensory avenues, according to Dr. Frank A. Butler, associate professor of education at the Pennsylvania State college. "Mental processes must have their roots in reality," Dr. Butler declared. "Handing out education in artificially prepared packets must give way to the learn-and-learn-as-you-go variety." The test of education is whether it makes a difference in health, working habits, skills, ideals and attitudes, he believes. If there are no immediate differences in these, education has failed. "Efforts must be made to change the passive habit of hearing and talking about subjects to the active determination to do something about them," Dr. Butler added. "In time the word and not the word will be the instrument of education."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT! It takes several days for a typical French soup—the regular pot au feu (pot on the fire)—to reach its flavorful perfection. But here in America now—in only about 20 minutes' cooking time—we can brew just about as flavorful a soup as ever steamed out a warm, appetizing welcome. Yes, there's a new easier way to make delicious home-cooked soup.

NEW, HANDY! We invite you to try our new product, called Betty Crocker Vegetable Noodle Soup Ingredients. It's "soup in a package"—all your dry ingredients 99% ready to cook!

YOU SIMPLY empty the contents of the package into boiling water, add butter, and simmer. All the hard work of preparing 7 different vegetables, and making noodles, is done.

Included in each package are rich egg noodles made from Gold Medal-Durum Flour. Also savory herbs and spices. And seven choice vegetables: tomatoes, carrots, onions, spinach, parsley, sweet bell pepper, celery. They're in flake form, "dehydrated" (picked fresh, then brought to low moisture content). This preserves the garden flavors of the vegetables. Then, too, you cook them yourself for the first time. No "steamed over" flavor to your soup. It's fresh cooked in your own kitchen.

SOUP BARGAIN, too! Every package makes six large bowls of soup. Twice as much as you get from the average size can. Do try this easy new way to make delicious home-cooked soup. Tested by our staff of cooking experts.

Autopsy Reveals No Death Cause

Nothing on Body Taken From River Gives Clue

An autopsy performed Wednesday afternoon at the Conner morgue on the body of the unknown man found floating in the Hudson river near Port Ewen that morning did not disclose the cause of death, according to Coroner Jesse McHugh, who gave a verdict of death from "cause undetermined." Accurate diagnosis was hindered by the condition of the body, which is believed to have been in the water anywhere from two to six months.

The coroner said that there were no apparent marks of violence and that death apparently was not from natural causes. It was disclosed that the mark on the forehead was not a bullet hole, as penetration was slight.

Sheriff Howard C. Anderson last night sent out a general alarm, giving the following description: Age 20 to 25 years; height, five feet five inches; light brown hair; short and thin; several dental fillings in teeth; no scars; wore red sweater, brown corduroy pants, white shirt, green heavy socks, brown oxfords. No identification marks on clothes or body. Anyone having information as to the identity of the man is asked to communicate with the sheriff at Kingston.

Many flat tires and broken springs were reported at a rough spot in this year's motor car race from Mendoza, Argentina, to Santiago, Chile.

was placed in the open. After the blessing by the Rev. Mr. Thaden, everyone partook of a plentiful dinner. Each family brought food for themselves which they exchanged about, thereby affording a varied menu. The fellowship was so much enjoyed that it was decided to hold a picnic the third Sunday of each month during the pleasant weather.

Local State Guard Unit To Join June Maneuvers

Plans are being made for the New York State Guard to spend 10 days in war maneuvers at Camp Smith, near Peekskill, and it is expected that the local units in charge of Major Carl Preston and Captains Allen Hanstein and John J. Schwenk, will leave for camp June 14.

Other units from this area will include Catskill, Hudson, Albany and Newburgh.

There are several seniors in the Kingston High School who are members of the local units of the State Guard, and it is expected that arrangements will be made for them to take the June Regents examinations at camp.

Pretty Swell Farmer—Pretty, Too

By WILLIAM E. PHIPPS

Wide World Features
Vancouver, Wash.—Fall in line at the nearest recruiting station, fellows. No need to worry about things on the home front so long as there are gals around like Pat Altree.

Pat is 17, slender, blonde and pretty and if she isn't a logical candidate for Miss America 1942, the folk out La Center way allow they've got things sized up all wrong.

Maybe Pat won't stand up alongside a gal from the front row of a Broadway chorus when it comes to looks, and again maybe she will, they say. But when it comes to the important thing this war year—production for victory—they reckon Pat will be out in front by a country mile.

Schools Just Part Of It
Pat carries a full scholastic load as a junior at La Center high school, keeps up with her 4-H club work in which she's been winning prizes for five years, competes with the class of boys evenings in a farm management course, and—

She runs a 70-acre farm. Really runs it—alone.

Pat rolls out at dawn, milks a herd of 20 graded and purebred Jerseys, feeds 14 calves and eight heifers and catches a bus for school.

After a full day in the classroom, Pat comes back to the farm, takes care of the milking again and whatever else that needs to be done at the moment—plowing, harrowing, discing, seeding or cultivating 55 tillable acres.

A Homebody, Too
Sometimes, if she isn't too busy, she looks after her sisters—Julie Ann, 8, and Terry, 7, letting them ride the tractor with her.

And just to make certain she has enough to do, Pat sells tractors on the side—in her spare time.

Pat's been the boss of Charter Oak Farm ever since her dad left for the coast to do his bit for Uncle Sam in a war industry.

"And that," says Pat, "is all I'm doing here on the farm."

Brush-up Course For Nurses Ends

Instructions Were Given for Two Months

The Brush-up Course for registered nurses carried on during the past two months and sponsored by the Alumnae Associations of Kingston and Benedictine Hospital in co-operation with the Ulster County Committee on Nurse Participation in the Defense Program, has been completed.

Trill, eight lectures and demonstrations were held in surgery, medicine, treatments and procedures. An average of 60 Kingston and Ulster county nurses participated in the discussions.

As a follow up in the course it is now planned to carry on an advanced course in Red Cross first aid.

According to information sent out recently from the United States office of Civilian Defense, graduate nurses may if they wish take the advanced first aid course of 10 hours without taking the basic course. They may then take the instructors course of 15 hours to qualify as a teacher in first aid.

Dr. Emil Goodyear will teach the course. He will be assisted by graduate nurse instructors. Sessions will be held in the library of the Kingston Laboratory each Monday evening at 8 o'clock, beginning June 1.

Registered nurses wishing to join the group may apply to Miss Mary Longue, president of the Kingston Hospital Alumnae Association, Miss Dorothy Rist, president of the Benedictine Alumnae Association or Miss Katherine M. Murphy, chairman of Ulster County Committee on Nurse Participation in the defense program. Telephone 1164.

Lewis Nixes Murray From $18,000 Position

Washington, May 28 (AP)—John L. Lewis today ousted Philip Murray, president of the C. I. O., from his $18,000 a year job as vice president of the United Mine Workers.

Lewis, president of the miners, declared the vice presidency vacant and was upheld by the U. M. W. executive board by a vote of 17 to 1.

Lewis then named John O'Leary, Pittsburgh, to Murray's place.

U. M. W. spokesmen explained that under the union constitution Murray, ineffectual, vacated his office when he accepted the salaried leadership of the Steel Workers' Union.

Martin Wagner, representing district 50 of the U. M. W., cast the lone vote against ousting Murray.

PHOENICIA

Phoenicia, May 28—Two candidates will be taken into Tiskilwa Rehekah Lodge Tuesday evening, June 3.

Mrs. Ronald Slicker of Connecticut is spending some time with her mother here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith of New Jersey who used to live here, are with us again for a while.

The M. J. Sewing Class met Thursday evening in the lecture room.

The proprietors of the Villa Maria are here making plans for the opening of the house which was formerly known as the Waldorf.

Walter Vinchell, who was home on a furlough, has returned to camp.

Mrs. Alice Townsend is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Morrison, at Fleischmann's.

The American Legion Post, No. 950, will have Memorial services Saturday, May 30, at 10:30 a. m.

A daughter, Nancy Olivia, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Gordon.

J. Newman is now able to be outside and walk around.

Mrs. Earl Smith and son of New York visited Mrs. Hasell recently.

Dulcie Gale is home from Albany where she has been attending college as the term has closed.

Mrs. Grace Baldwin visited friends in Kingston recently.

Bernard Gordon of Baltimore is home for the summer vacation.

The Rev. Mr. Stine and family are located in the Methodist parsonage. The Rev. Mr. Huiker, the former pastor, has gone to Hillsdale, Columbia county.

Fish Is Endorsed

Goshen, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—Rep. Hamilton Fish has the endorsement of the Orange county Republican committee in his fight for re-nomination in the 26th New York congressional district. The endorsement was voted 190 to 26 last night while Fish and Augustus W. Bennett, a Newburgh attorney, looked on. Bennett, who had announced he would seek the nomination as an independent if rejected by the committee, got the 26 votes.

Total of 189 'X' Cards

After checking over the 410 "X" gas ration cards issued in Kingston during the three-day gas rationing period it was stated at the office of the Kingston Rationing Board today that 189 "X" cards are now held by physicians, clergy, ambulance or hearse taxi and busses and government agencies in the city. This number does not include the "X" cards that were issued for commercial trucks, which do not need cards.

Action Settled

An action to foreclose a mechanic's lien brought by Equity Builders, Inc., against D. J. Jaccod, et al., which was on the day calendar in supreme court, has been settled. It was announced Wednesday, N. LeVan Haver appeared for the plaintiff and Michael Nardone for the defense.

Big Aim of Desert War Is Destruction Of Enemy Machine

It is just as hot for the defenders as for the attackers.

Should Rommel Succeed

Should Rommel succeed in wiping out the roving iron defenders of this sandy sea, and then take Tobruk by infantry assault, he would be in a position to wage a prolonged and large-scale campaign which would engage the whole energies of the allied armies in all the middle-east, divert much of the assistance which Russia will need to defend the Caucasus and weaken the frontal defenses of the middle-east oil countries.

In a major sense the whole middle-east from the Libyan desert to Iran must be regarded as an extended flank of the Russian theatre of war.

Moreover, the great allied oil reservoirs east of Suez are directly vulnerable to air or seaborne attack or to a land drive via Turkey—especially if the allied fighting forces are heavily engaged in the west.

Those are the reasons why the desert battleground can never be regarded as isolated or localized, and that is why there must be a decision in Libya or Egypt before the ultimate allied offensive can get in motion.

America's own stake in this battle drama is a big one. Virtually the whole service of supply in the middle east is in U. S. hands. A large percentage of the equipment of the British fighting force, on the sand and in the air as well, came from American factories. U. S. service troops in increasing numbers have reached the rearward areas to support the combatant British, who no longer have the Australian overseas contingent in reserve.

Against this transatlantic reservoir of equipment and supply the Axis has amassed reinforcements which were shipped across the middle and western Mediterranean under the costly protection of a sustained aerial campaign.

Malta, staunch little guardian in the middle of this perilous Azure Sea, has taken the main weight of this aerial blasting, day and night, week after week.

How WLB Keeps

Industrial Peace In Wartime

By ALEXANDER GEORGE
Wide World Features Writer

Washington — A patent lawyer and three educators comprise the "big four" of the 12-man War Labor Board, a sort of supreme court for war industry which has been battling close to 1,000 per cent in the peaceful settlement of labor disputes.

In four and a half months, the board has settled 69 cases involving 607,000 workers, and not a single strike has been authorized by the national offices of the A.

F. L. or the C. I. O.

The public's representatives on the board are Chairman William H. Davis, head of a New York firm of patent attorneys; Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina; Dr. Wayne L. Morse, dean of the law school of the University of Oregon; and Dr. George W. Taylor, professor of industry at the University of Pennsylvania.

The board the "balance of power" since the four labor and the four employer members of the board frequently line up solidly in opposition on major issues.

DAVIS

CHAIRMAN DAVIS—Optimistic, resourceful, with surprising endurance for a man of 62. . . . Apparently gets a quiet kick out of handling a tough case. . . . Lets both sides blow off steam and then smoothly steers arguments towards points on which agreement seems most likely. . . . Settled Allis-Chalmers controversy in 22 hours. . . . Says successful mediation depends upon assurance to each individual that he will receive a full and respectful hearing; reliance on persuasion as being practically and morally superior to force; determination to get at the real truth of important issues and confidence in the truth to settle those issues fairly. . . . Worked with the late Hugh Johnson as national compliance director for N.R.A. and later was made first chairman of the New York State Mediation Board. . . . His experience as a patent lawyer has given him considerable knowledge of technical problems.

GRAHAM

FRANK P. GRAHAM—A friendly little man with a passion for going to bat for the civil rights of people with all sorts of political, economic and religious beliefs. . . . Kindly nature, notable work for the university he heads and championship of the "underprivileged" have made him "the best-liked man in his state." . . . Battling for unpopular people has made him "most-disliked man in his state." . . . Some conservatives denounce him as a dangerous radical. . . . Friends say his radicalism is that of a Christian and a democrat who practices Christianity and democracy. . . . In educational circles he is ranked as one of four or five leading university presidents in the country. . . . Has served as President Roosevelt's representative on various governmental boards. . . . Usually on labor's side in industrial disputes, but voted against John L. Lewis' demand for coal mine closed shop.

MORSE

WAYNE L. MORSE—The 41-year-old dean of the University of Oregon's law school won his "let-it-go" as an expert labor troubleshooter as Pacific coast arbitrator of disputes between Harry Bridges longshoremen's union and ship owners, handing down arbitrators awards in 91 cases since 1935. All of these decisions were accepted by the disputants. . . . Cool, meticulous and "a terrific worker," he is credited with doing much in building up a system of orderly, equitable procedure in the confused field of labor mediation and arbitration. Before going to Oregon as a law professor 13 years ago, he taught argumentation at Minnesota and Wisconsin universities. . . . Says if the parties in a dispute can be persuaded to sit down and in the presence of a conciliator discuss their differences, there is a strong chance that reason and calm reflection will prevail against emotional thinking and bad feelings.

TAYLOR

GEORGE W. TAYLOR—Stocky, placid, 40-year-old vice chairman of Board. . . . From 1931 to 1940 was sole arbitrator for the hosiery industry, handing down some 1,200 decisions in labor disputes. . . . During 1941 umpired disputes arising under the contract between General Motors and the United Automobile Workers of America, covering 200,000 employees in 90 plants from coast to coast. . . . Has been teaching at University of Pennsylvania since 1929. His Ph.D. thesis on the hosiery industry led to appointment as arbitrator for the industry. . . . He sees the War Labor Board as the "national umpire for all labor disputes in the field of war production. The board may occasionally miscast strikes and balls, although not nearly so frequently as may be claimed by the parties at interest. However, no matter how the decisions fall they must be accepted so that we can get on with the war."

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, May 28 — On Wednesday evening, June 3, in the Central School, a court of awards will be held for the Girl Scouts.

At this time Girl Scouts of Marlborough and Milton will be presented with badges and other honors won by the scouts in past years, but never publicly acknowledged. Members of three troops will participate in the court of awards. Two Marlborough troops are led by Miss Emily Pattison and Mrs. Will Plank. Miss Minna Strohman is in charge of the Milton troop. Members of the Girl Scout committee will assist with the arrangements. Included in the program will be athletic contests and Girl Scout ceremonies. Each troop will demonstrate work done through the year. Fathers of scouts also will be honored that evening with the presentation of special badges. The members of the Boy Scouts of Marlborough have been invited to attend, as well as other organizations in the town.

Miss Barbara Baxter, daughter of Mrs. Grace Baxter Graves of Marlborough, was graduated from Pembroke College in Brown University's 174th annual commencement Monday. Miss Baxter majored in sociology. In her senior year she was a member of the committee of the Christmas dance at Metcalf Hall, and for the senior dance. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was secretary of her dormitory in her sophomore year and an Ivy chain bearer in her junior year. Miss Baxter is a graduate of the Marlborough High School.

Stanley Baxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baxter of Marlborough was graduated Monday with an A.B. degree from Susquehanna University, Selingsgrove, Pa. Mr. Baxter majored in French. He is a graduate of the Marlborough High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace O'Dell are the parents of a son born on May 13. Mrs. O'Dell is the former Miss Velda Griener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griener.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pellizzari of Cedar Cliff are the parents of a daughter born May 14.

On Saturday in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, Mr. and Mrs. William Badner became the parents of a daughter. Mrs. Badner is the former Catherine Andrews, and Mr. Badner is owner of the Marlborough Meat Market.

Mrs. Lawrence Gaffney and Miss Eileen Gaffney of New Paltz and Mrs. Mary Hannigan of Marlborough were Sunday night dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Downer in Newburgh.

Students of the music department of the Marlborough Central School, voted last week to cancel the concert which was scheduled for Friday evening, May 22. Rationing of gas and the tire shortage is the reason given. More than 50 per cent of the students in the Glee Club and orchestra live in outlying districts and have to be transported to the school for rehearsals as well as for the concert. According to present plans, the school band will have a community concert in the village next month.

Miss Millicent Cosman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Cosman, was guest of honor at a bridal shower Monday evening in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin E. Staples, Sr., when more than 60 guests were present. The house was decorated with spring flowers and a mock wedding was held. Miss Cosman will become the bride of Albert

Command Is Ended

New Delhi, India, May 28 (AP)—General Harold R. G. Alexander issued a special order of the day today saying "my command of the (British Imperial) armed forces in Burma has come to an end with the withdrawal of the army from that country. Our task has been carried out with little or no air support," he said. "The struggle has been hard and critical. The British shared the defense against the Japanese invaders of Burma with Chinese troops commanded by the American Lieutenant General Joseph W. Stilwell."

Retail trade in England declined from one-third to one-half in 1941, compared with 1940.

Belmont Park Gets Warning on Safety

New York, May 28 (AP)—A warning that activities of the Belmont Park racing plant, fashionable metropolitan course which ranks with any in the nation, should be "halted or suspended unless adequate civilian protection is provided" has been served on track officials by Col. Edward C. O. Thomas, Nassau county director of civilian protection.

A salad dressing need not always be made with salad oil. Sour cream, bacon fat or sausage fat make good dressings, as do eggs, and a little butter when combined in a boiled dressing.

Nurses' Aides Are Capped at Exercises

The first class of Volunteer Nurses' Aides for Ulster County were capped last evening at the Nurses' Home, Kingston Hospital, in reward for the completion of their training course. This group has studied a seven-week course the first three of which were spent in three-hour a day periods of lectures and nursing demonstrations. The latter part of the course provided actual experience in the wards of both the Kingston Hospital and Benedictine Hospital.

Members of the class are Mrs. G. E. Appleyard, Mrs. Virginia DeGraff, Mrs. Barbara Gauthier, Mrs. Harry Gold, Mrs. Marion Hollander, Mrs. Adrian Kaplan, Mrs. James Rapp, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Gerald Sumner, Mrs. Naomi Van Gaasbeck and Mrs. Peggy Van Wagenen. Mrs. A. F. Turck, R. N., was the instructor for the class.

This group will now continue the service by giving 150 hours a year for the duration of the war and in time of emergency these nurses' aides will be called upon to assist in the medical tasks. More classes in this training course will be formed next fall, and are sponsored by the Red Cross and the Volunteer Office of Civilian Defense in cooperation with the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals.

Mrs. G. W. Ross, chairman of the project, presided at last evening's exercises. The program was opened with a violin solo, "Ave Maria," Bach-Gounod, played by Miss Patricia Scudder accompanied at the piano by Miss Amylou Millonig. The Rev. Dr. Frank E. Seeley gave the invocation and Charles W. Walton, chairman of Ulster County Red Cross gave a brief address to the class.

Mr. Walton praised the women for their effort in the defense program. He said while the men were fighting battles at the front these women were working at one of the most important tasks at home. He spoke of the responsibilities everyone has in war time and of the courage the American people are displaying in carrying on the fight. In closing he said that the insignia of the nurse's aid were "Symbols of a high type of patriotism and devotion to your country."

In presenting the class, Mrs. Ross spoke of the work they had accomplished and the type of course which was pursued.

Miss Almira Porter, principal of the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing, presented the caps to the class and Mrs. Charlotte Tappen, secretary of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross presented the members with the Nurses' Aide pins.

During the program, Miss Scudder also played "Adagio" by Borowski, accompanied by Miss Millonig and they also played a piano duet march as the class took their places. The Rev. G. E. Appleyard sang, "Service" and the "Blind Ploughman" accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Rignall as the closing numbers in the service.

Mrs. Marion Hollander was not present for she was spending the evening with her husband who leaves for active service in the United States Army today.

Following the exercises a reception and social hour were held.

Re-Elected

Miss Genevieve Monteleone

The members of the T. N. T. Club of younger employed girls of the Y. W. C. A. held their annual business meeting and election of officers on Tuesday evening at which time they re-elected Miss Genevieve Monteleone president of the club. Other officers elected were Miss Edith Cooke, vice president; Miss Rita McDermott, secretary; and Miss Rita Fautz, treasurer. The standing committees were also appointed with Miss Helen Cragan, program chairman, assisted by Miss Bonnie McDermott; Miss Evelyn Shadler, Miss Evelyn Guadagnoli; social committee, Miss Gladys Cottingham; chairman, the Misses Eloise Barnett, Betty Britt, Esther Van Gaasbeck; membership, Miss Dorothy Swart, chairman, the Misses Marjorie Murphy, Betty Carpio; finance, Miss Mildred Cercone; chairman, Misses Anne Cragan, Dolores Gillen; sports, Miss Elaine McConnell; chairman, the Misses Ruth Parslow, Betty Van Leer.

In place of the regular weekly meetings during the summer, the members will have picnics and parties. The first affair to be held at the home of Miss Edith Cooke, June 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

War Unites Sisters

Awakened by her landlady and asked to make room for a bedmate, a girl war worker in a city near Glasgow, Scotland, was amazed to find that the late arrival was her sister. Both girls, who had not met for several years, went to Stirling and the Hebrides. After working as domestics, they signed up for war work and by accident were united.

Miss Egbertson Is Honored At Several Bridal Showers

On Monday evening, May 25, Mrs. Lester Clark of 126 Clifton avenue, entertained at a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Gertrude Egbertson, whose approaching marriage to Arthur J. Keator will take place Sunday, June 7, at 2:30 p. m., at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

The color scheme was yellow and orchid. During the evening a delicious supper was served to 24 guests. The center piece was in yellow with an orchid umbrella. Individual favors consisted of crocheted umbrellas. As the bride-to-be cut the shower cake it played the Mendelssohn Wedding March. The shower gifts were presented in a novel way, being placed in a large sprinkling can with an old-fashioned funnel bouquet to which were attached the favorite recipes of the following guests: Mrs. Lynn D. Wessels, Mrs. George Hudler, Mrs. Floyd Bilyou, Mrs. Ella Zoller, Mrs. Harold Egbertson, Mrs. Carrie Egbertson, Miss Ezelda Lang, Mrs. David Levy, Mrs. Asa Buddington, Mrs. Leon E. Peru's Industrial Bank at Lima is prepared to make extraordinary loans for improvement of the food supply and the shipping facilities of the country under terms of a recently enacted law. Funds are available to qualified persons to increase present food plants and to establish new ones to organize commercial fishing enterprises and to provide both river and ocean vessels which may be used in food transport.

800,000 Get Pensions

Great Britain has 800,000 persons on its World War I pension list, 24 years after the end of that conflict, according to the Ministry of Pensions in London. The pensioners are surviving soldiers or their dependants, and they cost the treasury $148,000,000 a year.

Land Army women are to be admitted to service hostels in Glasgow, Scotland, on the same terms as women in the fighting services.

PROPRIETY SAYS BIG WEDDING FOR A DIVORCEE IS ALL WRONG

That a divorcee should think of having a big second wedding with three attendants—a young sister of the bridegroom, a young sister of her own, and a friend as maid of honor—is certainly all wrong according to conventional propriety; but to what degree its wrongness will be criticized depends upon the conventionality or the casualness of her particular friends.

To you therefore who have just written me that these are your plans, the best answer I can give, is that if your friends are critical then only a maid of honor would be permissible. If your friends are casual then it is probable that they will find nothing to criticize in the idea of your adding the two bridesmaids to the picture—especially if they are in their mid-teens, and would be bitterly disappointed if not allowed to take part in the wedding.

Real Friends Don't Keep Count

Dear Mrs. Post: About four months ago a family of friends—all adults—were expected to spend the week-end. Unfortunately, I prepared for them until the larger number was literally bursting. I say unfortunately because as they would have to drive a distance of ninety-odd miles, and it rained very hard that Saturday morning, they telephoned us they would not come. (As it turned out, the week-end weather was beautiful.)

The point is this: Isn't it their turn to ask us? I mean, doesn't the preparation I made count for anything just because they didn't come at the last minute?

Answer: An invitation always cancels an indebtedness, whether it was accepted or not. The preparations you made counted exactly the same as though they had taken place. This is a definite rule, but as a matter of fact, friends very seldom pay definite attention to return payments. In other words, if you feel like asking them again you would certainly not be obliged to wait until they have returned your invitation.

On the other hand, if you like to keep your social engagements as though they were in a ledger, it is now their turn to invite you. This invitation from them will pay their obligation whether you accept or decline, and the next payment will be yours. (Small wonder real friends seldom keep count.)

So many requests have been made for copies of my article on details concerned with training camps (behavior of visitors and presents for the men), that I have had it printed as a leaflet and to anyone who sends me a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y., leaflets cannot be mailed unless self-addressed envelope bears correct amount of postage. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Lease-Lend Pacts Are Aimed At Winning War and Peace

widely separated parts of the British empire, including the kingdom itself, India and Australia. In other words, the 132,000,000 people of the United States have buckled down to the job of producing and shipping weapons of war for belligerent allies aggregating more than 1,000,000,000 in population. In addition, defense materials are flowing to 16 American republics with which the United States has signed lease-lend agreements: The Dominican Republic, Haiti, Paraguay, Brazil, Nicaragua, Cuba, Bolivia, Uruguay, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Honduras, Peru, Colombia, Venezuela, Mexico and Ecuador. More than half of these have declared war on the Axis and the others are cooperating with the United States in hemisphere defense measures.

Now lease-lend aid, as interpreted in the master agreement signed with Britain, is on a reciprocal basis. That is to say the recipients undertake to supply to the United States such aid as they are in a position to give.

Such reciprocal aid is defined in the master agreement as "all property, services, information, facilities, or other benefits or considerations" provided for an accepted by the United States.

In this connection it is significant to recall that President Roosevelt some time ago remarked that the value of United States aid to Soviet Russia could be measured in German troops killed and tanks destroyed.

In other words, resources of all kinds are being pooled in the common war effort: American tanks and Russian soldiers, American planes and British pilots, American guns and Chinese gunners. In the final settlement of lease-lend accounts, therefore, less emphasis is likely to be placed on striking a bookkeeper's balance than on cooperative measures to get world economy on its feet again. As Article VII of the master agreement puts it, the terms and conditions of the final settlement shall include "provision for this world economic rehabilitation, a cooperative undertaking 'open to participation by all other countries of like mind.'" And this cooperative task shall be directed to the revival in all countries of "production, employment, and the exchange and consumption of goods, which are the material foundations of the liberty and welfare of all peoples."

Line-up Changes Made for Parade In City Saturday

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, grand marshal of the Memorial Day parade to be held in Kingston Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, today announced the following changes in the parade formation:

The National and city colors will be borne at the head of the parade by members of Tappan Camp, Sons of Union Veterans, while the color guard from the George Cook Post of the American Legion of Ellenville, will head the second division of the parade.

The third division of the parade will be made up of the Boy Scouts, who will be divided into two sections. The Saurteries Fife & Drum Corps, Willet Overbaugh manager, will lead the second section formed of Troops 9, 8, 6, 18, 13, 20 and 11.

The seventh division formed by the Red Cross units will line up in front of the Red Cross office on Fair street instead of Green street as originally announced.

YOUR FOOD-AND NUTRITION
Food which is well prepared and tastily served is actually more easily digested than less appetizing fare, food authorities believe. This is because the sight of tempting food stimulates the flow of digestive juices. The sight as well as aroma of a perfectly broiled steak, nicely browned as well as sizzling hot, is an invitation to eat well. Good food builds health and stamina and is a great help to our morale.

When broiled beef steak is your choice for family dinner or special occasion, you are choosing one of the finest of meat cuts, and you should use care both in selecting and cooking it.

Beef steaks are cut from a tender portion of the animal, the short loin and loin end. Since the steaks vary in size and shape, the number of persons of heat so that only one turn is necessary.

A broiled steak is therefore an easy main dish, and the home-maker can go about her business of preparing the rest of the meal. However, good "timing" is necessary so that the meal is entirely ready to be served, and the guests and members of the family too, so that the steak may be served, sizzling hot, with no delay to spoil its perfection.

Here is the proper way to broil any tender beef steak.

Broiled Steak
Have porterhouse, sirloin, or club steak cut thick, at least one inch. Set the regulator to broil. Place the steak on the rack. Insert the broiler pan and rack so that the top surface of a steak one-inch thick will be two inches from the source of heat. For a steak two inches thick, allow a distance of three inches. If the distance must be less, reduce the temperature accordingly. When one side of the steak is nicely browned, season with salt and pepper, turn and finish cooking on the second side. Season the second side and serve immediately. Steaks cut one inch thick require fifteen to twenty minutes for broiling. Two-inch steaks require thirty to thirty-five minutes.

Brazilian Plane Dive-Bombs, Sinks Axis Submarine

Rio de Janeiro, May 28 (AP)—A Brazilian air force plane was credited today by a high Brazilian source with the dive-bombing destruction of an Axis submarine five days ago off the northeast coast of Brazil after a summons for assistance from United States fliers.

"The plane is Brazilian and was piloted by a Brazilian crew," said the informant, whose country is not at war with the Axis but has had seven ships torpedoed in the U-boat campaign and all but one lost.

The submarine, he said, was first sighted last Saturday afternoon by United States fliers, identified as Lieutenant Harry Schwane and Sergeant J. G. Yates.

U. S. Pork Rations Possible, Livestock Authorities Think

is a major conversational topic in trade centers. Many in the trade believe "self-rationing" is assured.

When packers pro-rate the amount of meat they supply to various retail outlets, that is "self-rationing." It is what always happens in a temporary shortage, and presumably could be applied over a longer period. Under "self-rationing," the housewife is not compelled to carry a ration book, but she may find her favorite butcher has no pork to sell.

"Self-rationing" would also eliminate the vegetarian's delight, the "meatless day" on which no one is permitted to buy meat. The day would be "meatless," or at best "porkless," only to those who didn't get to the right butcher soon enough.

At any rate, many livestock men believe some type of rationing is probable before the end of 1942.

Huge Profits Reported
Washington, May 28 (AP)—The House Naval Investigating Committee was told today that the Mine Safety Appliances Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., realized profits ranging from 38 to 122 per cent on cost in 1940 and 1941 on "a vast increase in business."

The United States Navy, Edmund T. Durbin, committee counsel, in opening presentation of his inquiry into the company's naval business, flatly asserted that the "two largest contracts show tremendous gross profits. In addition, two navy contracts involving Mine Safety Appliances Company will be demonstrated."

May Get Uniforms
The ladies of the Red Cross Motor Corps, who ordered caps and uniforms may purchase the same at the Red Cross office, 237 Fair street. All are asked to call for them Friday so that the uniforms and caps may be worn in the Memorial Day parade.

The Consolidated Oil Company reported a payment of $153,959 to H. F. Sinclair as president and director and the Richfield Oil Corporation in Los Angeles reported a $60,040 payment to Sinclair as chairman and director, bringing Sinclair's 1941 total to $215,999.

With the exception of the changes in the high ranking movie stars, the reports showed that remunerations paid, including bonuses or shares in profits, changed only slightly in 1941 from the previous year. In some instances declines were noted.

Former Sanitarium House Rented for Five Years

James S. Belefaz, who about a year ago purchased the former "House of Tech" property formerly used in connection with the Sahler Sanitarium, said this morning that he had rented the place for a period of five years to Mrs. Rhoda Shaw, who has been conducting a nursing home on East Chester street. Mrs. Shaw is to take possession June 1.

The building, on Elizabeth street, has three main floors, containing 35 rooms and in addition there is a commodious attic and large basement with kitchen, dining room, etc. The interior is finished in chestnut, with hardwood floors and has been repainted and thoroughly renovated by Mr. Belefaz, who has also installed electric lighting in place of gas, and new heating equipment.

Sewing clubs or "circles" at which all the women do one family's mending at one time, all of another's the next, and so on, are growing in popularity.

To Release Flow Of LIVER BILE

Normally about a quart of digestion-aiding bile should be discharged into the intestines every 24 hours. A scanty flow—a slowing-up—may cause sick headaches, bowel sluggishness and so-called bilious indigestion with its "half-sick," sour depressed feeling. If you suffer from such symptoms because you need more bile released from the gall-bladder, try world famous Kruschen Salts. Get a bottle tonight—start right in tomorrow morning and take as much as will lie on a dime in a glass of water (hot or cold) half an hour before breakfast, or in your morning cup of tea or coffee, and keep it up for 30 days. Don't miss a morning and note the results for yourself. You can get Kruschen, a famous English formula made in the U.S.A., at Benger's Pharmacy, or any drug store. You must be satisfied or money back. CONSTIPATION SUFFERERS Note: For an occasional cathartic or purgative to relieve common constipation, we believe there is nothing better than quick-acting Kruschen in larger doses—try it according to directions on the bottle.—Adv.

Don Hempe Hurls Third Straight Win Over Local Club

Four Kingston Mounts Blasted for 14 Hits; Locals Play Two Games Over Week-End

Coach Sammy Kallach's power-laden Poughkeepsie High School baseball team, did it again yesterday. For the second time this year the Bridge City tossers hammered Kingston. Yesterday's score was 13 to 2.

Don Hempe, southpaw pitching ace for Poughkeepsie, started on the mound again for the visitors and although Kingston touched him for two runs in the first inning, his batting marks turned on the power and unleashed a 14 hit attack on four hopeless pitching aspirants of the Maroon and White squad.

Kingston momentarily roughed up Hempe, who had previously pitched two straight no-hitters against the club, for two runs in the initial stanza. After that the young portender kept the gates closed. The locals opened with Crosby drawing a walk and going to third on Al Zadany's single over McCombs' head. Rod Sagerdorf came up and drove a hot single into right to drive in both Crosby and Zadany. That ended everything for the players of C. A. Cliff Miller.

Poughkeepsie laid into Ten Brock, the starting hurler for Kingston in the first and quickly drove him to cover. Miller, who informed the press earlier in the week that Lou Albright would be the starting hurler, called on Albright to stem the tide. The Bridge City reached Albright for another run in the third. Albright kept Poughkeepsie under cover until the fifth when the Kallachmen bats started to roar again. Two homers featured the attack. Poughkeepsie tallied five more in the seventh to complete the rout.

Kingston plays host to Saugerties High at the Stadium Friday afternoon and then travels to Tannersville Saturday for a Memorial Day contest.

Guard Invents Weapon

One of the members of the Home Guard in New Zealand, within a few weeks after being asked whether he could make a trench mortar to a pattern adopted widely by the Home Guard in Britain, is turning out a fairly large number of similar weapons. He is a member of a demolition squad in Auckland. His superiors are especially pleased because of the ingenuity shown by him and his aids in using nothing but waste materials.

Golfers Ready for Red Cross Tournaments

Washington, D. C.—More than 527 golf clubs, public courses and associations have planned tournaments during the year for their members with all proceeds earmarked for the American Red Cross.

Forty-four states and the District of Columbia are represented by the clubs that have made plans for the tournaments, and a total of 2,964 tournaments have been scheduled.

The tournaments will be held Memorial Day, Fourth of July and Labor Day week-ends under the management of the United States Golf Association and hundreds of other clubs are expected to take part in the program.

Leading the Honor Roll of golf clubs participating is New York with 61 courses and associations signed up for tournaments. Pennsylvania is in second place with 46 clubs. Michigan has 35, Illinois and Ohio, 30 each.

Entry fee for each tournament is one dollar, except at certain public courses where a 50 cent fee has been approved. A Red Cross certificate suitable for framing will be issued to each cooperating course and association, while winning players will receive appropriate certificates.

Cooperating with the U. S. G. A. in arranging for the tournaments is the National Sports Advisory Committee of the American Red

Perrys Turn Back Habers in League Contest by 11 to 2

Post and Buchanan Work for Winners; D. Perry Drives in 3 Runs for Victors

In a City League game at Hasbrouck Park Tuesday night Perry's Market came back in the winning column by trouncing Habers to the tune of 11 to 2.

Post started on the hill for the winners and pitched good ball until the fourth when he had to leave the game due to a sore arm. Buchanan came in and hurled the rest of the way.

Dominic Perry paced the victors with two doubles and by driving in five runs. Dave O'Brien slashed out a double which accounted for three runs. Ad Stumpf for Habers stood out with two for four hits and he drove in the only two markers for Habers.

Golf club officials point out that there are more than 2,000,000 golfers in the nation and over 5,200 golf clubs. All of the clubs have been urged to join the program.

During World War I "Liberty Tournaments," sponsored by the U. S. G. A., were conducted among 525 clubs. Entry fees in the tournaments totaled $210,000. All of which was turned over to the Red Cross.

The number of Red Cross tournaments already scheduled for 1942 greatly exceeds the number for the war years 1917-1918, it was pointed out.

Hogan and Laffoon Take Spotlight in P. G. A. Tourney

Jimmy Demaret Defeats Vic Ghezzi, Defending Champ; Snead Wins Over Sammy Byrd

Atlantic City, May 28 (AP)—The outstanding match in the second round of the Professional Golfers' Association championship at the sprawling Sea View Club today appeared to be the one between Ben Hogan and Ky Laffoon, each of whom has, in turn, been a sevenday wonder among the country's big golf winners in recent years.

Either that or the match between Craig Wood, the National Open Champion, and Leland Gibson of Kansas City, Mo., who is little known in big money circles but who has been shooting more than anybody's share of golf here today there were only two who might be termed outsiders.

One of them was the aforementioned Gibson. The other was Tom Harmon of Montclair, N. J. The other 14 either were players who have won their share of national headlines in their time or who still dominated the game.

Byron Nelson Wins

Byron Nelson, the favorite, reached the second round without exertion. His trick stomach was troubling him, as usual, and he wasn't quite satisfied with his game, yet the quiet spoken Texan still was so far superior to most of his rivals that he spent a good part of the last two days experimenting with his various shots.

Gibson appeared to have the best chance of scoring an upset today. The slight, blond Kansas City player shot surprisingly good golf in the qualifying round and kept it up in overwhelming Jimmy Gaunt of Longview, Texas, in yesterday's first round. He had a 69 in the morning—three strokes under par—and took only 32 for the outward nine in the afternoon in beating Gaunt 10 and 9.

But that still didn't mean he could lick Craig Wood today. Wood, veteran of a hundred big tournaments, was six under par when he closed out Rod Munday of Toledo, 5 and 4, yesterday.

Harmon, the only other "outsider" among the survivors, faced Jimmy Demaret today. Demaret beat Corp. Vic Ghezzi, the defending champion, 4 and 3, in yesterday's opening 36-hole test. So

Here's Chance For Military Golf Tourney

By DILLON GRAHAM
Wide World Sports Editor

Atlantic City—How about a service men's open golf championship this summer, providing Uncle Sam will let the army and navy golfers have a long week-end furlough?

Seven men-in-uniform played in the Professional Golfers' Association tourney of the year, since the national open and amateur championships were cancelled because of the war. A nice hunk of dough could be raised for army or navy relief funds through a servicemen's tournament.

There are now 116 members of the P.G.A. in the army or navy and perhaps as many or more A-1 amateurs. Topping the lists are Corporal Vic Ghezzi, who won last year's P.G.A., whipping Byron Nelson in extra holes, and three former national amateur champions—Marvin (Bud) Ward, Willie Turnesa, and Dick Chapman. You can add Charley Yates, too, one of Dixie's best who copped the British amateur a few years ago.

Others include Bob Crowley, P.G.A. medalist at Buffalo in 1934, Matt Kowal, former Philadelphia open king, Jim Turnesa, whose par-busting 67 was one of the low scores on opening day at the P.G.A. here, Jack Isaacs, Eddie Kirk, Corporal Ed. Oliver who, except for his unfortunate disqualification, would have tied Lawson Little and Gene Sarazen for the open two years ago; Johnny Perrelli of California, John Thoren, former New England pro champ, and Tommy Tailer, ranking eastern amateur.

Strange stories crop up in golf every now and then and one almost unbelievable one can be told about the qualifying round here. Tony Penna, Jim Turnesa and John Kinder were playing together and they hit in that order on the short 12th hole. Penna was a beauty and looked stiff from the tee. Turnesa got inside him and then Kinder banged one that holed out for an ace.

The scoring was just in the reverse order from that which they teed off, for Turnesa got a deuce and Penna a three. That's 1-2-3 for the hole. It was Kinder's fifth hole in one.

Harmon's chances of being among the eight survivors tonight were less than bright.

Sammy Byrd, the former big league outfielder, carried almost the unanimous support of the gallery into yesterday's feature match against Sam Snead. But in the end it was Snead, the crack money player, who beat Byrd down in the afternoon and smashed him finally by a lopsided margin of 7 and 6.

Breslin Tops Club With .666; Jimmy Ashdown Hits .416

Rees Hope to Have Steve Nagy for G.E. Tilt on Saturday Night in First ArcLight Game

The housecleaning that was administered to the Kingston Recs during the hot stove league last winter has paid dividends in at least one department. Manager Joe Hoffman's club which will face the General Electric of Schenectady at the municipal stadium Saturday night in the first night game of the campaign, will have a team batting average of .352.

Howie Breslin, Kingston's new third sacker, who is under the watchful eye of the New York Yankees for future delivery, paces the club with a sensational batting clip of .666. He has cracked out six hits in nine trips to the plate and has scored five runs. Breslin doesn't confine his value just to the offensive. He has taken over the defensive angle of the "hot corner" in great fashion.

Jimmy Ashdown, leftfielder, is second with a mark of .416. He has picked up five hits in 12 tries. Ralph Coleman, the slugging first baseman from Nyack, has .307.

The new offensive which will get its debut under the lights Saturday night at the uptown ball park is sure to please the fans as it is one phase of the game that good baseball fans like to watch. Kingston's opponents, the G. E.'s also will have a number of batting greats in the lineup.

Rees After Nagy

It was announced by the Recs this morning that the club will definitely try to have Steve Nagy up here for the first nocturnal game. Nagy hurled brilliant ball against the Bushwicks last Sunday and although the Seton Hall finger will soon be wearing army togs instead of a baseball uniform, the local club would like to have his services until that time does arrive.

The Recs expect a telegram from Nagy today on his chances of appearing Saturday. Kingston will undoubtedly be facing the southpaw slants of Emil Battalino, the tricky hurler. Battalino, who doesn't look much like a pitcher, has plenty on the ball and has always been a tough one for local clubs.

Should Battalino need any help the Refrigerators will have Bob Franks, Ted Klonowski and Marty Bieganski ready for relief duty. Captain Len Hurley, ace first baseman, who really knows how to handle the initial sack, is the big hitting star on the club. Against the Mohawk Giants he had three for four, and against Co-

Odds on Robinson To Defeat Servo In Garden Tonight

'Sugar' Is After 121st Straight Victory in Bout: WOR to Air Fight at 10 P.M.

New York, May 28 (AP)—The navy took Red Cochrane and his welterweight championship out of circulation just about the time Ray Robinson was due to get a crack at the crown, so the Harlem Hammer is going to try to take this loss out on Coast-Guardsman Marty Servo in Madison Square Garden tonight. The hopes he rapped out four for four which gives the fans some idea of his power at the plate. The Schenectady club has Paul Briscoe, Don Buell, Jim Grasso, Hurley, Harrison, Feno, Stokar, Maletta and a number of others who are well-known to local spectators. It should be a good game and local club officials look forward to a good turnout for the initial night attraction.

fight will be broadcast over WOR at 10 o'clock.

The chances are he'll do all right, too. Although he had a tough time whipping Marty the last time they tangled, last September, the skinny swatter is 1 to 4 or more to repeat and chalk up his 121st straight victory in his unbeaten run as an amateur and pro. This corner likes him to win the ten-round decision.

Some 15,000 are expected to turn out for the go-round at 10 p. m. (E. W. T.) and chip in to a gross pot of $40,000 or so to see the hammer do his stuff. There's a slim chance they might be surprised, because Servo, a baby-faced kid out of Schenectady, has the crowding, hooking style which figures to make trouble for the up-town thumper.

But all in all, Robinson has the speed, the boxing ability and the punching power to take care of the up-stater in his usual style. He's particularly adept with a haymaker right that has made the birdies ring for more than two thirds of his 31 professional opponents.

Mine-sweeping operations are carried out each morning in the harbor by Sea Scouts of Cochin State, India.

Doctors Say Tony's Sight Is Bad But They Haven't Seen Him Bowl

By FRITZ HOWELL

Wide World Features

Tony Sparando, the No. 1 citizen of Maspeth, N. Y., and the empire state's ranking performer on the maple lanes, must be rated among the era's top sextet of bowlers.

He possesses a snappy, picturesque delivery that is all his own, with a powerful leg thrust at the finish. The equipment which makes him a great bowler consists of a stout heart, unerring accuracy—and an ordinary ball.

Last Of A Series

Thousands have left the scene of big ten pin matches saying: "Sparando was in that 1-3 pocket all the time, but that 10-pin stopped him."

The smiling little Italian-American has an appealing, though retiring personality which has won American bowling congress galeries for the past few years. Only a few seasons ago he was a line-man for a Long Island telephone company, but his bowling exploits hoisted him into a salesman's job for a bowling equipment firm.

Last year, at the ABC in St. Paul, after a good start in the five-man and doubles events, his strike ball started working in the singles. On the last ball, however, the 8-10 split hopped up and he was halted at 738—two pins away from the lead.

He totalled 1934 in the all-events—his third 1900 count in 12 attempts. He took a plane to New York to keep a date with his draft board physician the day after he rolled his big singles total, only to be told:

"Sorry, my boy, the army can't

Ernie Bonham Is Hot After 30 Victories; Has Taken Seven So Far; Braves Lose

Yanks Cage Athletics, 8-3; White Sox Down Indians; Reds on Hitting Spree

(By The Associated Press)

The most coveted pitching goal in the major leagues is 30 victories in a season. It is much more valuable, and a whole lot more difficult to obtain, than a no-hitter.

The feat hasn't been accomplished since Dizzy Dean had his great season for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934 and it hasn't been done in the American League since 1931 when Robert (Lefty) Grove won 31 for the Philadelphia Athletics.

After Bob Feller traded his baseball togs for a Navy uniform last winter there didn't seem to be a pitcher anywhere with even a remote possibility of gaining the pinnacle this season—or next, either.

Yet, Ernie (Tiny) Bonham, big right-handed ace of the New York Yankees, apparently has found the right trail and his chances look about as good as Feller's ever did.

Seventh For Bonham
Bonham bagged his seventh straight victory yesterday, 8-3, from the Philadelphia Athletics. The crowd at Yankee Stadium, where he hadn't been scored upon all season, was hoping he would get his fifth shutout. He missed this, but he pitched an expert seven-hit game without allowing a walk.

The big fellow is no strikeout specialist such as Dean or Grove or Feller, but his "forkball" is something the opposing batters usually pop up and his control is amazing. In the seven games he has pitched this season he has walked only five batters.

He may not win 30 games, because there are only 24 weeks in a season and he may not get to work often enough. But with a team like the World Champions behind him he is not likely to lose many and at present he is right on the beam—approximately one-fourth the victories in approximately one-fourth the season.

The Yanks gave Bonham a five-run boost in the fourth inning yesterday, three of the runs coming on a homer by Tom Henrich, and this enabled the Champs to coast to their 16th victory in 19 games.

The Boston Red Sox came out of a slump to overpower the Washington Senators, 10-1, in a night game. Oscar Judd limited the Nationals to six well-spaced hits before a crowd of 17,000. Rookie John Pesky collected three of Boston's 13 hits and scored twice. Chicago's usually weak-hitting White Sox collected 17 hits at Cleveland, but had plenty of trouble taming the Indians, 9-7. Three of the Tribe's 10 hits were homers and it remained for Relief Pitcher Joe Haynes to win his own game for the Sox by singling across two runs in the eighth inning.

The St. Louis Browns backed up Johnny Niggeling with extra-base hitting to beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-2. Walt Judnich led the attack with a homer, a double and a single.

Dodgers Tilt Braves
The Brooklyn Dodgers increased their National League lead to six games by beating the Boston Braves, 4-1, with a three-run ninth-inning rally that settled a hurling duel between Whit Wyatt and Jim Tobin.

Wyatt rationed five hits and Tobin scattered seven and the only runs till the final frame were Billy Herman's homer for Brooklyn in the first and Sibby Sisti's round-tripper in the third. Then Dolph Camilli walked, Joe Medwick and Pinchhitter Pete Reiser singled and Mickey Owen tripled.

Bucky Walters pitched seven-hit ball as the Cincinnati Reds conquered the Chicago Cubs, 10-1, with a 13-hit offensive that included a grand slam home run by Gerald Walker to climax a seven-run spree in the fourth inning.

The surging St. Louis Cardinals moved into second place slightly ahead of Boston by routing the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3. Three errors figured in Pittsburgh's fourth straight setback.

Bob Carpenter pitched the New York Giants to a 6-2 decision over the Phils in a night game at Philadelphia.

Glasco Wins Two

Glasco took the first leg on the Ulster county dartsboard championship Tuesday evening at Lake Katrine when the Glasco team under Manager Mike Aiello won two games. Lake Katrine took the other. Glasco won 11-10 and 8-7 while Lake Katrine took their game 7-3. The match was played at Grange Hall in Lake Katrine and tonight Manager Dan Morehouse will take his team to Glasco for the return match. Lake Katrine won the Federation cup and Glasco the Saugerties League trophy.

What men have done can still be done, AND SHALL BE DONE TODAY

SAD, yet proud, Uncle Sam thinks of all the soldier dead of wars gone by. The faces of the men who fought in the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and World War I pass in review. And on this Memorial Day, soldiers of World War II are added to that parade of heroes.

AMERICANS everywhere feel sadness for the lives lost, but only pride when they think of the justice of the cause for which these soldiers died, and for which they die today. Liberty is the name of that cause. In the past we have recognized the basic truth of Daniel Webster's words, "God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it." Today we are asked to defend that cause once more. And we will succeed, for what men have done can still be done, AND SHALL BE DONE TODAY.

Springer Likens Madeline's Love To Cleo and Wally

New York, May 28 (AP)—Tall and graying James Matt Springer, the former Stillwater, Okla., judge, cited some of history's most famous romances today in attempting to explain the "inexplicable" love of Madeline Webb for Eli Shonbrun.

Springer, who came to New York to assist in the defense of the 28-year-old model accused with two men of first degree murder in the strangulation of Mrs. Susan Flora Reich, began his summation before a general sessions jury today with this:

"No one knows why Cleopatra had her Mark Anthony. Why Elizabeth had her Essex. Why Madeline Pollard had her Breckinridge, or why Wally had her King Ed, who stood up and said to the world 'I abdicate my throne at long last that I may marry the woman I love.'"

"I say these things are inexplicable—and so my helpless client found her Shonbrun."

Miss Webb, a graduate of Oklahoma A. & M., who came to New York in search of a stage career, Shonbrun and John D. Cullen, have been on trial for the last three weeks for the March 4 slaying of Mrs. Reich, wife of a New Jersey manufacturer, in a hotel suite.

The state charged that she had slain for the $2,000 in jewels that she wore.

In an eloquent style, Springer declared that the girl he had known "since childhood," came to New York in 1939 as "an obscure, unknown child" because she was interested in dramatics.

"Finally she met Eli Shonbrun," he said. "She met him under the circumstances through an introduction by a lady she had known for six months. There was something that grew up between two people, a thing most people can not understand."

As the lovers sat quietly with downcast eyes, Springer described to the all-male jury the delights of rural stillwater—a beautiful introduction by a lady she had known for six months. There was something that grew up between two people, a thing most people can not understand."

Working up to the day of the slaying, Springer asserted that Miss Webb left the Hotel Sutton at noon, going to a spot where Shonbrun had told her he would meet her later and then take her to a show.

The Oklahoma attacked bitterly the testimony of Murray Hirsch, Shonbrun's uncle, who also is under indictment for the crime but was granted a separate trial to become the state's chief witness.

After 34 minutes, Springer concluded his appeal with this: "Send her back home to her Christian mother. Let her answer the prayer of a broken heart."

Miss Webb was in tears and the court called an hour's recess.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow.

Vanderbilt Joins Navy

New York, May 28 (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, wealthy young sportsman who resigned from the presidencies of the Belmont and Pimlico race tracks last month, has joined the navy. It was understood he would be made a boatswain. The 28-year-old heir of the Vanderbilt fortune enlisted on Monday and left immediately for Washington.

Baptists Ask Prohibition

Cleveland, May 28 (AP)—Action seeking national prohibition for the war's duration probably will be taken by the Northern Baptist Convention in session here, leaders predicted today. A move to stop the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic beverages was urged yesterday by the Schenectady, N. Y., Tabernacle Baptist Church.

Navy Says U. S. Submarines Sink Two Japanese Vessels

Local Death Record

Mrs. Josephine Gassio Harrington, widow of William F. Harrington, who resided at the Home for the Aged, died at the Kingston Hospital yesterday. Services will be held at the parlor of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the Pine Hill cemetery. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Harry Beatty of this city. She was a member of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

The funeral of Mrs. Frances E. Post Keyser was held from the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was in charge of the Rev. Frank B. Seeley, D. D., pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church. The services were very largely attended by her many relatives and friends and there was a large number of beautiful floral tributes, testifying to the high esteem in which she was held. The burial was in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery at Saugerties where the committal services were conducted by Dr. Seeley.

Vanwyck Townsend of 43 Green street died at the Kingston Hospital this morning. He was 66 years of age. Besides his wife he is survived by a son, Milton of Nanapanoch; two brothers, Zephaniah Townsend of New Paltz and Arthur Townsend of Newark; two sisters, Mrs. Phoebe Allison of Grahamsville and Mrs. Lulu Furman of Windsor; also several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held from his late home, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in the Tongore cemetery. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the First Reformed Church, this city, will officiate.

Marlborough, May 28—On Wednesday afternoon from the Tuthill funeral home on Main street at 2 o'clock, funeral services were conducted by the Rev. A. Van de Beek Vos, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, Marlborough, for the late Ella Bateman, 72, who died Monday after a short illness. She was born in Baltimore, a daughter of James and Sarah Blair Bateman, and had resided in Marlborough but for three weeks, formerly residing in Cornwall. Survivors are a sister, Molly C. Bateman of Little Falls, N. J., a brother, Joseph D. Bateman of Smithton, L. I., and a niece, Mrs. Frank Van Dermeulen of Little Falls, N. J. Burial was in the Lloyd cemetery.

Marlborough, May 28—Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Tuthill Funeral Home, Main street, Marlborough, at 9:30 and at 10 o'clock from St. Mary's Church where a Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. James Hanley for Daniel Donovan, 74, who died Monday in Hackett's Sanitarium, Kingston, after an illness of several weeks. He was the son of the late Charles and Ellen Doyle Donovan, and lived in Marlborough all his life, and was a member of St. Mary's Church. For years he was a fruit farmer. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary Ann Gallagher, a niece, Miss Helen Walsh, and three nephews, William J. and Francis Walsh of Marlborough and Charles Walsh of Newburgh. Burial was in the family plot in the Lattin-town cemetery.

The funeral of Michael DeCicco of East Kingston was held from the late home on Wednesday, May 27, at 9:30 and 10 o'clock from St. Colman's Church, where a requiem Mass was offered by the Rev. William Brennan, pastor of the church. During the time the body reposed in the home, hundreds of people called to pay their respects and offer their sympathy to the bereaved family. There was an unusually large number of beautiful floral pieces and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards received at the home of the deceased which attested to the high esteem in which Mr. DeCicco was held. A delegation of the Societies of St. John and St. Liberator visited the home Monday evening. Tuesday evening the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge No. 970 of Kingston, of which Mr. DeCicco was a member, visited the home and conducted services for the departed brother. The bearers, who were all members of the Moose Lodge, were Leo Arace, Lamont Gedney, Abe Rappleyea, Jessie Capriotti, Tony Balestrieri and Maynard Cook. Burial was made in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery, where final absolution was pronounced by Father Brennan as the body was lowered to its final resting place.

Killed Man Is Report

Hudson Falls, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—A Hebrew man now dead killed Charles Barrett, itinerant farmhand, "apparently in 1939" and stuffed the body in a packing case in his home where it was found last March 1, a Washington county grand jury has concluded. The jury said the alleged killer moved from the home soon after concealing the body and died two months later. The jury reported testimony indicated the slaying was the climax of a long period of ill feeling between the two men.

Third Might Have Been Sunk; Heavy Cruiser Is Damaged, Says Communique

Washington, May 28 (AP)—The navy announced today that U. S. submarines in the western Pacific have sunk two Japanese ships, probably sunk a third, and damaged a fourth, the latter a heavy cruiser.

The latest report on American undersea activities was given out in a navy communique, No. 82, based on reports up to 1 p. m. today, which said:

"Far East:

"(a) One large auxiliary ship sunk.

"(b) One medium-sized cargo ship sunk.

"(c) One medium-sized cargo ship severely damaged and probably sunk.

"(d) One heavy cruiser damaged by torpedo hits.

"These actions have not been announced in any previous Navy Department communique and are not related to the engagement in the Coral Sea which was fought earlier this month.

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

These submarine actions, naval officials said, were presumed not to duplicate in any part a report issued at Allied headquarters in Australia several days ago in which several successful attacks by American undersea craft were disclosed.

Today's navy announcement raised the announced American submarine bag of Japanese ships to 44 vessels sunk, 13 probably sunk and 12 damaged.

Late Bulletin

Mexico City, May 28 (AP)—President Manuel Avila Camacho called upon an emergency session of Congress today to declare Mexico at war with the Axis—the first declaration of war in his history—and place the nation immediately upon a fighting footing.

In a Chamber of Deputies alternately gravely silent, the ringing with the tumultuous cheers of "Viva Mexico," the president pledged all the resources of the nation to "collaborate energetically in saving America."

His appeal to the Congress and by radio to the nation declared that Mexican neutrality had been violated wantonly by the torpedoing two weeks ago of the Mexican ships Porfirio Del Llano and Faja De Oro.

An ovation of several minutes interrupted Avila Camacho when he said the "disloyal, sneaking and cowardly attacks" had decided his government to "accept valiantly the realities" of the world situation and ask for a declaration of war against Germany, Italy and Japan.

The attitude of the Congress was revealed quickly by Emilio Gutierrez Roldan, president of the Chamber of Deputies and presiding officer of the joint session of the two houses.

"We shall give all the support necessary to our government regardless of sacrifices and privations to make safe the honor of our fatherland," he declared in response to the president.

P.S.C. Announces Revision of Rates

$3 for 660 feet to $6 per 2,000 feet of extension. Under the modified plan when the average length of line per customer is between 650 feet and 2,000 feet the minimum monthly charge will be $3. This change, therefore, results in a maximum reduction of $3 per month.

The changes affecting rural customers may be summarized as follows:

On lines less than five years old the minimum charges of less than $3 per month will be eliminated. Where the minimum charges are from $3 to $6 per month the charge will be $3. Minimum charges of over $6 will be reduced approximately $3. On lines over five years old minimum charges of $6 and less will be eliminated and minimum charges over $6 will be reduced by approximately $3.

The filing also lengthens the meter reading period to bi-monthly and four-monthly bases. The purpose of this change is to conserve gasoline and tires where the meter reading involves the use of an automobile especially in the rural areas.

Politics to Start Earlier This Year

Conventions Are Slated for Next Month

Politics this year will get under way slightly ahead of former years due to a change in the law governing local designations for political candidates to be voted for at the general election in November.

Republican caucuses will be held in the various election districts of the county on June 13 at 8 p. m. and the unofficial county convention of the Republican party will be held at the municipal auditorium in this city at 11 a. m. on Saturday, June 20.

At the Republican county convention there will be a recommendation for congressmen, nomination for state senator and locally candidates will be named by the party for the office of state assemblyman, district attorney, county clerk, all of which offices will be filled at the general election in November. In addition there will be seven delegates and seven alternate delegates named to attend the Third Judicial Department convention, 17 delegates and alternate delegates to attend the Republican state convention and there will also be named two members to the Republican state committee.

The Democratic convention will be held June 20 at 2 o'clock at the auditorium following the Republican convention.

Primary day will be August 11 this year and July 7 will be the last day to file designating petitions.

Welfare Workers Prepare to Give Aid in Emergency

Albany, May 28—Some 12,000 county, city and town public welfare workers throughout New York state are prepared to give emergency welfare aid to individuals and families who may be affected by enemy attack or sabotage, through temporary programs worked out in the 108 public welfare districts of the state, David C. Adie, state director of Emergency Welfare Services and Evacuation, revealed today in connection with an all-day meeting of 200 public welfare commissioners, civilian protection directors and other officials to be held today at the Hotel Ten Eyck here.

Mr. Adie, who is state commissioner of social welfare, was appointed on May 1 by the State War Council to direct war emergency aid operations in the state in the event of enemy action. This program, approved by Governor Lehman, is part of the civilian protection operations of the State War Council under Major General William N. Haskell.

Such aid will be given to persons who may be deprived of their homes, their livelihood, or other necessities of life. It may include cash, or services, to provide food, shelter, clothing, household furnishings, transportation to reach relatives or friends, information and advice. This will be administered by local public welfare commissioners who are being designated as directors of emergency welfare services by the local directors of civilian protection.

Article V of the new War Emergency Act of 1942 provides that each local public welfare official shall "out of funds made available by the federal government or out of funds made available for home relief or otherwise, furnish war emergency aid to the persons found in his territory in need thereof, who are not receiving needed assistance from any other source."

"The public welfare employees of the state comprise a trained and skilled civilian army, ready and prepared to move into any section of the state to take care of victims of enemy action," Mr. Adie said. "They will bring with them the practical knowledge of the everyday job of helping individuals and families in trouble. This new war welfare assignment is an extension or intensification of their regular work."

With the exception of one set in the singles between Connolly and Overbaugh, the latter representing Saugerties, Kingston won the meet in easy fashion, hardly ever exerting itself.

The results of the match:

Doubles

Vertitis and Werbalowsky (K) defeated Shultis and Doyle (S), 6-2, 6-0.

Miller and Lane (K) defeated Lochner and Beatty (S), 6-0, 6-2.

Singles

Connolly (K) defeated Overbaugh (S), 6-2, 7-5.

Tocsis (K) defeated Amrod (S), 6-1, 6-1.

Koch (K) defeated Beatty (S), 6-1, 6-1.

Culver (K) defeated Lochner (S), 6-1, 6-0.

Kear (K) defeated D'Ambrosia (S), 6-1, 6-1.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 28 (AP)—Rallying strength oozed out of the stock market today after an early effort to extend Wednesday's bulge encountered profit taking opposition centering on steels and motors.

While assorted favorites managed to cling to modest plus signs near the fourth hour, small declines were plentiful.

Sentiment still was bullish regarding prospects of a gigantic air smash at Hitler but some customers lightened commitments to await the outcome of important battles in Russia and Libya. The news from China also was none too cheerful marketwise.

Bonds were moderately steady and commodities lower.

Dealings in stocks were relatively slow, although one 10,000 share block of Coty International, unchanged at 3/4, helped the volume.

Up at one time or another were J. I. Case, Southern Railway, Allied Chemical, Kennecott, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft and Johns-Manville. Inclined to falter were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Anaconda, Union Carbide and Texas Co.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 50 Broad street, New York city, branch office, 48 Main street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

Lonstein Given $25,000 Verdict

Award Is for Injuries in Auto Accident

Irving Lonstein of Ellenville was awarded $25,000 for injuries which he suffered on February 11, 1941, in an automobile accident near Catskill when his car collided with a tractor-trailer owned by the Onondaga Freight Corp. of Syracuse. The action was brought in Supreme Court to recover $150,000, alleging permanent injuries, and was tried before Justice Harry E. Schirick and a jury this week.

Alleging that the driver of the stalled truck had failed to place warning flares out to warn traffic that the truck was on the highway, the plaintiff charged that through this negligence he suffered permanent injuries when his car which was proceeding south from Albany collided with the parked truck.

Lonstein suffered broken wrists, an injury to his arm which limits the motion of his elbow and numerous other injuries which confined him to the Catskill Hospital for weeks.

Trial of the case was started on Monday and Wednesday after Justice Schirick had charged the jury the deliberation of the jurors was undertaken. It was not until after the jurors had been taken out to dinner that they arrived at a decision. The verdict was reported to the court late in the afternoon. David B. Sugarman for the defendant moved to set aside the verdict but his motion was denied by the court. LeRoy Lounsbury and Benjamin Lonstein appeared for the plaintiff.

First Baptist Men's Club Conducts Business Session

The Men's Club of the First Baptist Church held its final business session of the year in the church parlors Wednesday evening. The session began at 8 o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by President Byron S. Chatham, who outlined the club's accomplishments of the past year. The club has had direct supervision and responsibility of repairing and redecorating the church sanctuary as well as other parts of the church building. One of the most important accomplishments of the year was the purchasing and installation of a new lighting system and new lantern-type lights in the church sanctuary.

Besides these accomplishments, the club has taken an active part in the Men's Club Federation of the city, participating in softball and football leagues and in other activities of the federation.

President Chatham concluded the meeting with the announcement that plans are going forward for the First Baptist Men's Club to participate in a Federation bowling league next fall, and the appointment of a nominating committee for the election of club officers next fall. The nominating committee is composed of: Harold B. Rich, chairman; Sherwood Lasher, Erwin Cray, William S. Jackson and Paul Jones.

The club will re-convene September 30. President Chatham has the power to call a special meeting of the club during the summer if circumstances warrant it.

Welsh Is Freed

Kansas City, May 28 (AP)—George W. Welsh, Jr., was freed today of a first degree murder charge brought against him by the state in the hammer and butcher slaying of his pretty 24-year-old sister, Leila, March 9, 1941. The charge was dismissed by J. J. Dougherty, justice of the peace. County Prosecutor Michael W. O'Hern asked that the defendant be held 20 minutes to give him time to file a new action. O'Hern did not disclose the nature of the charge he had in mind. Three grand juries have investigated the case since the former University of Kansas City beauty queen's mutilated body was found in her bed by her mother, Mrs. Marie Welsh.

Hats Dismay Vicar

Women's hats are viewed with alarm by the Rev. Erick Bailey, vicar of St. John's, Upper Norwood, England, in his parish magazine. "The other morning," he writes, "a lady came to the altar wearing a hat with a most dangerous looking feather which nearly poked the eye out of the priest offering the chalice. Another lady wore a hat with a veil, and only with the greatest difficulty could she be communicated from the chalice."

Britain now has over 180,000 women in war service work.

This Victory Garden Is Advanced

Shown above is one of the more advanced Victory gardens which is in Port Ewen and is being grown by Cyril Small. The garden contains the following: Peas, spinach, carrots, beets, onions, cabbage, kohlrabi, broccoli, string beans, tomatoes, melons, watermelons, Hubbard squash, summer squash, cucumbers, swisschard and lettuce. Mr. Small started planting the garden about April 1. Mrs. Charles Card, a neighbor, loaned the ground to Mr. Small.

HIGHLAND

Highland, May 28—The Rev. William Coombe occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning and after reminiscences of his early acquaintances and connections with the church and its active members, naming the families as he knew them, he gave a talk in connection with the Lord's Supper. The elders, A. W. Williams, W. D. Corwin, Dr. Victor P. Salvatore, Clarence W. Rathgeb, Charles Champlin and Dr. Henry Moeller assisted in passing the elements to the large congregation. Ushers were J. Howard Sherman, Allan Hasbrouck, Van Allen Purdy and Leonard Church. Before the communion service the cross presented by Mrs. A. W. Williams in memory of her late brother, Philip Elting of Kingston, was dedicated and the lights turned on. The Rev. D. S. Haynes in his dedication spoke of the Cross as the Symbol of the Church and of what it meant throughout the world to all denominations. It hangs in front of the organ as a constant reminder of the faith everyone clings to.

In the vestibule, the Misses Laura Harcourt and Julia Van Keuren asked all to sign the guest book which had been the gift of the Mission Circle. The elders and their wives, were also there to extend a greeting and welcome to all. The floral decorations were profuse of both garden and hot house flowers.

With Mrs. Willard Burke at the organ the prelude was, "Angelus," Massenet; processional hymn, "How Firm a Foundation"; invocation followed by the Lord's Prayer; doxology, responsive reading, Gloria, confession of sins, assurance of pardon, hymn, "Our God, Our Help in Ages Past"; reading from the Scriptures; anthem, "Let the Earth be Joyful"; pastoral prayer; offertory, "Prayer," Schubert; dedication of the Memorial Cross; solo, "If Any Man Thirst," McIntosh; Miss Darlene Busch; sermon, the Rev. William Coombe; call to communion, hymn, "I Am Trusting Thee Lord Jesus"; communion service; hymn, "O God of Mercy, God of Night," benediction; postlude, "Postludium."

The pageant, "There is a Way," was beautifully presented at the service Sunday evening. More than 50 children and young people took part, beginning with the shepherds in their quest of the Christ; Youth as Miss Shirley Hubbard in finding her work in the world. This was told as a story among children and that Christ knows no distinction among the nationalities. The foreign children in their native dress; the group of young people who serve, the start in the home where the parents were represented by Robert Brucklacher and Miss Nancy Rathgeb with the children, Billie Relyen, Jean Ann and Gail Noe, and Audrey Burke formed a scene that few will ever forget. In the background Grace Brucklacher played, "Home Sweet Home" as a flute solo. The last grouping was June Schantz as Victory as she handed the cross pieces of the cross to Roberta Johnston, Sacrifice; love, Nancy Rathgeb and the lower end of the cross to service, Shirley Dirk.

The committee deserve credit as there was no prompting, each child and young person took his place with no announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Rhodes entertained on Sunday the Rev. and Mrs. William Coombe of Ellenville, Mrs. W. H. Wilcox of Poughkeepsie and Miss Helen Coombes of Arlington, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Coutant drove to Alfred, Friday, and returned Sunday with their daughter, Miss Doris Coutant who has just completed her junior year at Alfred University.

Sgt. Frederick Swift returned Saturday to the Manchester, N. H., Air base after a five-day furlough at his home.

Mrs. W. E. Harcourt returned to her home in Ardonia after a two weeks' visit with her niece, Mrs. Alfred Coutant.

Mr. and Mrs. James Callahan drove to Alfred Sunday to attend the graduation of their son, Robert Callahan, from Alfred University. The exercises take place Monday and they return next day.

John Platania lost 10 chickens Sunday night by a dog or dogs entering the chicken yard.

Price speculation in essential raw material is growing in Argentina.

Pandas Show Moodiness At Ceremonial in Zoo

New York, May 28 (AP)—Bronx Zoo's baby pandas refused to let 11-year-old Nancy Lostutter of Columbus, Ind., place bamboo wreaths about their necks yesterday when the time came for her to dub them "Pan-Dee" and "Pan-Dah."

Becoming a bit temperamental, the pandas chased photographers from their cage and even forced John Blair, their attendant, to retreat while a crowd of 400 persons chuckled.

Nancy, who was the winner in a national contest to select names for the animals, finally was forced to throw the wreaths about their heads. "Pan-Dah"—the female—tossed her wreath off, then picked it up and replaced it about her neck. "Pan-Dee"—the male—promptly ate his, bamboo leaves being a panda's principal diet in their native China.

The pandas were given to the zoo by Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of China's Generalissimo, in appreciation of American aid.

Blackout Window Now

Production on a large scale of a "perspective window," said to be ideal for blackouts, is under way in Sweden. It is described in Stockholm as giving from 25 to 40 per cent more light than other types and permitting effective ventilation. It has double panes in single pieces and is without bars. Blinds or shades are inserted between the double panes to cause the blackout.

Verdict Says Death Of Christian Was Purely Accidental

Coroner Jesse McHugh has rendered a verdict of accidental death in the case of John Egbert Christian, 62, of Wallkill, who was found dead in his garage at Wallkill on Tuesday afternoon. The coroner said that Christian had gone to his garage about 2:30 Tuesday afternoon and started up his car, preparatory to going to his work as a car inspector at Maybrook.

After starting the car Christian got out and went to open the garage doors, but fell to the floor, where he was found later by his daughter, Mrs. Adam Kionski, who had been putting up a lunch for him. Dr. Charles Beattie of Wallkill was called and members of the Wallkill Fire Department worked for two hours attempting to revive Christian by artificial respiration methods.

Funeral arrangements are awaiting the return home of Mrs. Christian, who had gone to visit a son, who is in an army camp in Illinois.

DUPONT HOUSE PAINT
keeps WHITE houses WHITE

"Self-Cleaning" House Paint developed by DUPONT Keeps White Houses WHITE

Excellent Hiding
Easy Application
Lasting beauty and protection

BRILLIANTLY WHITE at the start, Du Pont House Paint stays white because it's "self-cleaning." It forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot, or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it and exposing a fresh white surface. This self-cleaning process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual dirt-collecting conditions such as found in sooty industrial areas.

Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Available in light COLORS, too! The new Du Pont Tru-Tint formula offers you lovely light colors with the same "self-cleaning" properties you get in the white Du Pont House Paint. Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. And it saves you money because it needs fewer repaintings. Next time you paint, ask your painter to use Du Pont House Paint.
